Washington Hopeful About Ike in 1956, Denver Inclination Is He Will Not Run

REMORSEFUL KIDNAP SUSPECT — Mrs. Betty Benedicto, 27, her Rosary beads clasped in her hand, sobs as she sits in police headquarters in San Francisco, Sept. 28, after her arrest in connection with the kidnaping of new-born son of Dr. and Mrs. Sanford Marcus from Mt. Zion hospital in San Francisco. She surrendered the baby in good health, to a Catholic priest in Stockton, Calif., about 80 miles east of San Francisco. (AP Wirephoto).

Mother Says Kidnaper Abandoned Own Child

San Francisco, Sept. 29 (AP)—Vigorous prosecution was promised today for Betty Jean Benedicto, blonde wife of a Filipino lodging house keeper, who snatched 2-day-old Robert Marcus from his crib at Mt. Zion Hospital here 10 days ago.

Robert was returned to his deliriously happy parents, Dr. and Mrs. Sanford Marcus, in Stockton early yesterday. That was shortly after the 27-year-old kidnaper had been spotted with the baby by a sharpeyed deputy sheriff at the prize fights in Stockton Tuesday night.

WHILE THE DEPUTY probed her story that the infant was hers, Mrs. Benedicto telephoned Dr. Marcus in San Francisco that she would deliver Robert to him in Stockton.

Their heartaches past, Dr. and Mrs. Marcus planned to take their baby home today to suburban Daly City. There, their two older children—Susan, 2 and Richard 3½—have been waiting to see the new brother they never knew had been kidnaped.

Mrs. Benedicto was held under guard in a psychiatric ward in San Francisco Hospital after collapsing at San Francisco police headquarters.

Dr. F. H. Adams, superintendent of Stockton State Hospital, said Mrs. Benedicto spent a week in that mental institution last spring.

ADAMS SAID Benedicto got a court order to have his wife put under observation because she'

Ulster Polio Goal Set For $45,000 in 1956

Ulster county's goal in next year's March of Dimes drive, beginning in January, will probably be about $40,000 or $45,000—a little higher than last year—it was estimated today by County Judge William A. Kelly, chairman of the Ulster County Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Parlysis.

The goal of the National Foundation will be $47,600,000, which is lower than the previous goal for the second straight year, but Ulster county has had a rather heavy incidence of new cases of polio this year and heavy expenses in certain severe cases. The local chapter also needs certain new items of equipment and has under consideration purchase of a modern Emerson iron lung and some portable chest respirators, Judge Kelly said.

Ulster county raised approximately $33,000 in its drive early this year. Half of the total raised is turned over to the National Foundation and half retained for county polio costs.

Howard Stephens, treasurer of the county chapter, said approximately $9,500 has already been spent this year. Only $10,000 was spent by the chapter for the entire year in 1954, which gives some picture of the trend.

Twenty-one new cases have been added to the load of the local chapter this year, in addition to 40 or 50 cases already on the rolls.

The Ulster County Board of Health lists a total of 32 new cases this year but 11 of these are mild, it was explained.

Judge Kelly said the Ulster County Chapter assumed all ex-

Saugerties Veteran, Victim Of Polio, Dies in Albany

Donald R. Swart, 31, one of Saugerties' most popular veterans, who for over a year has been fighting for his life in an iron lung at the VA Hospital in Albany died there on Wednesday.

A native of Saugerties, he attended Saugerties schools prior to entering the army during World War 2. He was employed with F. L. Russell Corp.

During maneuvers at Fort Sill, Okla., he lost his arm and following lengthy hospitalization was sent home. After convalescence he established a well-drilling business which he conducted until he became a victim of polio.

Since June he had been in serious condition at Albany Veterans Hospital and his courage and attitude there earned him a citation as "Patient of the Week" last winter.

During Christmas his hometown remembered him by presenting him with a Christmas tree laden with $250 in bills.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. James Swart; three brothers, Harold, Ronald and George;. a niece and two nephews, all of Saugerties.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday at 2 p. m. from the Seamon Brothers Company Funeral Home, Partition street, Saugerties. Burial will be in Mt. View Cemetery, Saugerties.

He was a member of the Lamouree-Hackett Post 72, American Legion which will conduct special services at graveside.

New Arab War Crisis Faces U.S.

Dulles Is Aware Of Arms Danger

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—The United States has the makings of a first class crisis on its hands in the Middle East, with the danger of a new Arab-Israeli war in the background.

That is the reason Secretary of State Dulles has sent George Allen, his assistant for Middle Eastern affairs, on an urgent mission to Cairo.

ALLEN HAS the evident task of trying to persuade Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser not to import such a volume and variety of arms from Communist Czechoslovakia as would upset the delicate power balance between the Arab states and Israel.

Dulles is understood to have sought to impress the dangers of the situation upon Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in New York. He reportedly argued that a flow of Soviet bloc arms to the Middle East now would violate the spirit of the Geneva Big Four meeting and create new tensions in the world.

Allen was prepared to warn the Egyptian government that if it brought about a radical change in the Middle East power balance the United States would be compelled to review its policies of cooperation with Egypt in the field of economic development—the current U. S. aid program is 43 million dollars—and in policies governing world cotton supplies. The major part of Egypt's foreign income is derived from cotton exports.

AT THE same time Allen was in position to argue that the United States had offered to sell Egypt arms in small quantities which it was believed here would not create new Middle East tensions and enlarge the dangers of a new war in that area.

Allen left for Cairo, by way of Athens and Beirut, Lebanon yesterday afternoon. In Athens he was to urge the Greek government to cooperate with Turkey in seeking to ease the dispute of the two nations over the island of Cyprus—a source of Middle East troubles unrelated to the Egyptian arms problem.

In Beirut it was understood that he would seek to dissuade Syrian leaders from joining Egypt in an arms race with Israel.

If the arms race develops as feared between Egypt, possibly Syria, and Israel, the danger of war would be gravely increased because of mounting tensions on both sides. Pressures could build up in Israel to seek a military showdown with Egypt before that country was better armed.

DULLES, RETURNING here from New York shortly after Allen left, minimized the importance of the Allen mission. He called it "more or less routine."

He said his final view about Egypt's announced decision to obtain arms from Czechoslovakia would depend "on the quantity and type of arms."

Friday Deadline To Get Licenses

Friday is the last day to renew motor vehicle operator licenses which expire on September 30, County Clerk Lawrence D. Craft cautioned today. The office will be open between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. Friday but under a new state law the office will be closed Saturday.

Operators whose licenses expire Sept. 30 must secure renewals before 5 p. m. Friday in order to legally drive a car over the weekend.

Rosendale Span Bids Due Oct. 27

Bids for reconstruction of a bridge over the Rondout creek at Rosendale will be among those opened by the state public works department in Albany Oct. 27, it was announced today.

The department readvertised for bids after none was received last Aug. 25. The estimated cost of the project is $305,000.

THE NEW BRIDGE will have a 126½-foot span with a 30-foot curb-to-curb width and sidewalks five feet wide. Approaches will be built of 30-foot asphalt concrete.

John W. Johnson, state superintendent of public works, announced yesterday that sealed bids on eight state highway, expressway and parkway construction projects, six thruway jobs, and three barge contracts will be opened.

THE 17 JOBS involve 27.08 miles of work in 14 counties at a total estimated cost of $12,155,936. Bids will be opened at 10:30 a. m., in Hearing Room No. 1, Gov. Alfred E. Smith, State Office Building.

Most of the money is to be spent for improvements along the New York State Thruway, including construction and repair of icebreakers on the thruway bridge between South Nyack and Tarrytown at an estimated cost of $2,272,000. Another $8,276,000 will be spent for thruway work in Chautauqua county.

AFTER 'ROUTINE' BREAKFAST — Vice President Richard Nixon, right, and Sen. William Knowland (R.-Calif.), Senate minority leader, pose at Capitol in Washington, Sept. 28, after having breakfast together. Nixon described the meeting as "routine," commenting that he and Knowland often get together. The two men are regarded as strong potential rivals for the 1956 GOP presidential nomination should President Eisenhower decide to step aside. (AP Wirephoto).

Soviets May Bar Long Pacts Because of Ike

London, Sept. 29 (AP)—A highly placed western diplomat said today that Soviet leaders are so deeply concerned over President Eisenhower's illness that they have decided to go slow in dealing with the west.

The diplomat said Kremlin leaders told him in Moscow they do not want to make any long-term foreign policy commitments until they learn when and whether Eisenhower will return to active leadership of the United States.

THE RUSSIANS, he said, are especially suspicious of Vice President Richard Nixon.

The diplomat, who asked that his name not be used, is visiting Europe on leave from his post in a foreign embassy in the Soviet capital.

"President Eisenhower," he said, "is very highly regarded by such men as Bulganin, Khrushchev and Molotov. In my talks with them since Stalin's death they refer to him as the same sort of friend they had in Franklin D. Roosevelt."

"Eisenhower made a tremendous impression on Khrushchev and Bulganin at Geneva," said the diplomat. "They told me and they told Dr. Adenauer (Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of the West German government) that Eisenhower is a sincere man who wants peace."

The diplomat said the Kremlin leaders are worried lest President Eisenhower's illness lead to an east-west situation similar to the one that developed when Harry Truman succeeded Roosevelt at the end of the war in Europe.

"THEY ARE AFRAID," he said, "that Eisenhower may step down from the leadership and somebody else take over—somebody they neither know nor trust."

The diplomat said that in the nearly 10 years in which he's been intimately associated with Soviet foreign policy, he remembers no time when the men in the Kremlin were more anxious over the health of a western leader.

THE KREMLIN allowed Roosevelt to be built up in the eyes of the Russian people as a sincere man and a friend of Russia, and they've also allowed their people to regard Eisenhower as a great American leader.

"Now," said the diplomat, "they don't know what to do and until they know more about the President's recovery and his plans, I don't believe they will do very much of anything that will tie them up for any long period."

President Sleeps 9 Hours

Committee Poll Gives Nixon Lead

Denver, Sept. 29 (AP)—A bedside bulletin reported today that President Eisenhower had "a very good night last night.

A 7 a. m. (MST) report from two of the chief executive's physicians said that:

"The President had a very good night. He slept almost continously under the oxygen tent from 9 p. m. to 6:15 a. m."

THIS WAS FROM Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the President's personal doctor, and Col. Byron E. Pollock, chief heart specialist at Fitzsimons Army Hospital, where Eisenhower has been confined since his heart attack last Saturday.

The doctors have been saying that rest and sleep are essential to repairing the chief executive's damaged heart and putting him on the road to recovery.

Thus the some nine hours of sleep last night appeared to be an encouraging sign.

On the basis of a procession of similar bulletins over the past few days, an atmosphere of increasing but still restrained optimism has developed here about the chief executive's heart condition.

THERE STILL is an inclination here to say that the President probably will cut himself loose from politics and turn down any attempt to induce him to try for a second term in the White House.

But in Washington, where practical political aspirations may outweigh actual medical considerations, there was a surge of hope today that the President still might head the GOP ticket in the 1956 election. These hopes were pegged in part to reports that a cabinet member has told a group of party money raisers there is no defmite reason for thinking Eisenhower can't run again.

Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (R-Ohio), recently recovered from a heart attack himself, wrote Eisenhower he was looking forward to "next fall with you again at the head of our team".

AN ASSOCIATED PRESS poll of Republican National Committee members and state chairmen brought out that there is widespread indecision over who would be the strongest person the party could tap next year in the event Eisenhower removes himself from the race.

Whatever the President's decision, if he has made it, the in-

Perfect Day, 63,869 Greet Series Teams

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—Billy Loes, Dodger righthander, struck out four men in the first two innings today as the Yankees and Dodgers engaged in a tight duel in the second game of the World Series. Loes gave up one hit while Tommy Byrne held the Dodgers hitless.

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—Perfect baseball weather, mild and clear with the thermometer in the 70s, greeted the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers for today's second world series game at Yankee stadium.

A crowd larger than the 63,869 which saw the Yanks win yesterday's opener, 6-5, was expected to shoehorn into the cavernous stadium. The opening turnout had been held down by a threat of showers throughout the morning. The bleachers were half filled when the Yanks come out for batting practice.

THE YANKEES called on a second lefthander, 35-year-old Tommy Byrne, in an effort to make it two straight against a Brooklyn club which reputedly murders southpaws. Byrne had a 16-5 record for the season. The Dodgers countered with Billy Loes (10-4), a righthander ten years younger than Byrne.

Churchmen Seek 60,000 Negro Votes

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 29 (AP)—Negro ministers have set Oct. 9 as the kickoff date for a drive to register 60,000 Negro voters before the Nov. 10 city election.

On that "citizenship Sunday" the ministers will ask unregistered members of their congregations to return to the church during the week so they might be transported to the court house to register for voting.

THE DRIVE was planned yesterday by 200 ministers of all denominations. The deadline for resistering is Oct. 21.

G. W. Lee, insurance executive and Negro political leaders, urged the ministers to "join hands to advance the frontiers of freedom a little bit further."

"When you go to your candidates and talk to them about the future of Memphis and about us in the city picture, you should be backed with voting strength," he said.

$50 Million Road Jobs Hinge on Bond Issue

Albany, Sept. 29 (AP)—The State Public Works superintendent says he will set in immediate motion at least 50 million dollars worth of road construction if the proposed highway bond issue is approved by the voters.

John W. Johnson yesterday rejected as "complication and controversial" an alternate highway plan advanced by the New York State Automobile Assn.

In a letter to Oscar J. Brown, association president, Johnson reaffirmed his support of the proposed constitutional amendment that would authorize the state to borrow 750 million dollars for road building.

If the amendment is approved at the Nov. 8 election, per gallon state taxes will be increased next Jan. 1 from four to six cents on gasoline and from six to nine cents on diesel fuel. The additional revenue will be assigned to a fund to pay off the bonds.

Johnson listed these projects as among those he said the department was "preparing to let" immediately after approval of the amendment:

The Liberty By-Pass and the Fair Oaks-Bloomingburg section, both on Routh 17; work on the Interstate Route south of Syracuse; two Brooklyn-Queens expressway contracts; work on the Horace Harding expressway in Nassau county; completion of the Massena By-Pass; Route 13 in Oswego county; the "Notch Road" in Greene county; Route 10 south of Malone; Route 9 near Schroon Lake; and "other important bridge and highway projects."

FBI Head Renews His Call For More Local Policemen

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today called anew for more manpower on local police forces. He said "inadequate provision for successful local police operation is certainly dangerous economy."

Also, Hoover said, citizens should help in the fight against crime, by cooperating in law enforcement.

In a signed editorial in the October issue of the FBI's law enforcement bulletin, Hoover praised what local law officers have done with modernized and progressive methods in attacking "the spiraling crime of the postwar years."

"While the crime total increased 63 per cent in the past 10 years, police organizations with a nominal gain of only 17 per cent in personnel accounted for 49 per cent more cases cleared by arrest," Hoover said.

Noting that an expected decline in crime after "the tur-

The diplomat, who asked that his name not be used, is visiting Europe on leave from his post in a foreign embassy in the Soviet capital.

"President Eisenhower," he said, "is very highly regarded by such men as Bulganin, Khrushchev and Molotov. In my talks with them since Stalin's death they refer to him as the same sort of friend they had in Franklin D. Roosevelt."

"Eisenhower made a tremendous impression on Khrushchev and Bulganin at Geneva," said the diplomat. "They told me and they told Dr. Adenauer (Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of the West German government) that Eisenhower is a sincere man who wants peace."

The diplomat said the Kremlin leaders are worried lest President Eisenhower's illness lead to an east-west situation similar to the one that developed when Harry Truman succeeded Roosevelt at the end of the war in Europe.

"THEY ARE AFRAID," he said, "that Eisenhower may step down from the leadership and somebody else take over—somebody they neither know nor trust."

The diplomat said that in the nearly 10 years in which he's been intimately associated with Soviet foreign policy, he remembers no time when the men in the Kremlin were more anxious over the health of a western leader.

THE KREMLIN allowed Roosevelt to be built up in the eyes of the Russian people as a sincere man and a friend of Russia, and they've also allowed their people to regard Eisenhower as a great American leader.

"Now," said the diplomat, "they don't know what to do and until they know more about the President's recovery and his plans, I don't believe they will do very much of anything that will tie them up for any long period."

Churchmen Seek 60,000 Negro Votes

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 29 (AP)—Negro ministers have set Oct. 9 as the kickoff date for a drive to register 60,000 Negro voters before the Nov. 10 city election.

On that "citizenship Sunday" the ministers will ask unregistered members of their congregations to return to the church during the week so they might be transported to the court house to register for voting.

THE DRIVE was planned yesterday by 200 ministers of all denominations. The deadline for resistering is Oct. 21.

G. W. Lee, insurance executive and Negro political leaders, urged the ministers to "join hands to advance the frontiers of freedom a little bit further."

"When you go to your candidates and talk to them about the future of Memphis and about us in the city picture, you should be backed with voting strength," he said.

FBI Head Renews His Call For More Local Policemen

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today called anew for more manpower on local police forces. He said "inadequate provision for successful local police operation is certainly dangerous economy."

Also, Hoover said, citizens should help in the fight against crime, by cooperating in law enforcement.

In a signed editorial in the October issue of the FBI's law enforcement bulletin, Hoover praised what local law officers have done with modernized and progressive methods in attacking "the spiraling crime of the postwar years."

"While the crime total increased 63 per cent in the past 10 years, police organizations with a nominal gain of only 17 per cent in personnel accounted for 49 per cent more cases cleared by arrest," Hoover said.

Noting that an expected decline in crime after "the tur-

President Sleeps 9 Hours

Committee Poll Gives Nixon Lead

Denver, Sept. 29 (AP)—A bedside bulletin reported today that President Eisenhower had "a very good night last night.

A 7 a. m. (MST) report from two of the chief executive's physicians said that:

"The President had a very good night. He slept almost continously under the oxygen tent from 9 p. m. to 6:15 a. m."

THIS WAS FROM Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the President's personal doctor, and Col. Byron E. Pollock, chief heart specialist at Fitzsimons Army Hospital, where Eisenhower has been confined since his heart attack last Saturday.

The doctors have been saying that rest and sleep are essential to repairing the chief executive's damaged heart and putting him on the road to recovery.

Thus the some nine hours of sleep last night appeared to be an encouraging sign.

On the basis of a procession of similar bulletins over the past few days, an atmosphere of increasing but still restrained optimism has developed here about the chief executive's heart condition.

THERE STILL is an inclination here to say that the President probably will cut himself loose from politics and turn down any attempt to induce him to try for a second term in the White House.

But in Washington, where practical political aspirations may outweigh actual medical considerations, there was a surge of hope today that the President still might head the GOP ticket in the 1956 election. These hopes were pegged in part to reports that a cabinet member has told a group of party money raisers there is no defmite reason for thinking Eisenhower can't run again.

Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (R-Ohio), recently recovered from a heart attack himself, wrote Eisenhower he was looking forward to "next fall with you again at the head of our team".

AN ASSOCIATED PRESS poll of Republican National Committee members and state chairmen brought out that there is widespread indecision over who would be the strongest person the party could tap next year in the event Eisenhower removes himself from the race.

Whatever the President's decision, if he has made it, the in-

$50 Million Road Jobs Hinge on Bond Issue

Albany, Sept. 29 (AP)—The State Public Works superintendent says he will set in immediate motion at least 50 million dollars worth of road construction if the proposed highway bond issue is approved by the voters.

John W. Johnson yesterday rejected as "complication and controversial" an alternate highway plan advanced by the New York State Automobile Assn.

In a letter to Oscar J. Brown, association president, Johnson reaffirmed his support of the proposed constitutional amendment that would authorize the state to borrow 750 million dollars for road building.

If the amendment is approved at the Nov. 8 election, per gallon state taxes will be increased next Jan. 1 from four to six cents on gasoline and from six to nine cents on diesel fuel. The additional revenue will be assigned to a fund to pay off the bonds.

Johnson listed these projects as among those he said the department was "preparing to let" immediately after approval of the amendment:

The Liberty By-Pass and the Fair Oaks-Bloomingburg section, both on Routh 17; work on the Interstate Route south of Syracuse; two Brooklyn-Queens expressway contracts; work on the Horace Harding expressway in Nassau county; completion of the Massena By-Pass; Route 13 in Oswego county; the "Notch Road" in Greene county; Route 10 south of Malone; Route 9 near Schroon Lake; and "other important bridge and highway projects."

Reports Released On X-Ray Project

Narly 50 people met at the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. Frederic W. Holcomb, Sr., recently with the Board of Directors of the Ulster County TB and Health Association. For the past several years, members have invited their wives and husbands for a social afternoon following the board meeting. Reports of subcommittees showed various activities in the Tuberculosis, Heart, Rehabilitation and Mental Health Programs.

A report of the executive secretary revealed that the Association has sponsored two mass chest X-rays during this period. In Saugerties during June the TB and Health Association, through Christmas Seals Funds, financed a Free Chest X-ray Survey for various plants and businesses. The X-rays were read by Dr. Herbert Schwartz, medical director of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital. Of the 1,423 people X-rayed, 1,259 persons were found to be negative—with no findings. Those with tuberculosis probably active-minimal 1, moderately advanced 4, far advanced 3, tuberculosis suspects 25, probably inactive 16: with other conditions, neoplasm 11, cardio-vascular 19, miscellaneous findings 88.

THE FREE CHEST X-ray Survey, which started Sept. 13, is being carried on by the State and County Departments of Health and the Ulster County TB and Health Association and will include six townships—Woodstock, Hurley, Ulster, Kingston, Esopus and Rosendale.

Dr. Holcomb, Sr., representative member on the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health, will represent Ulster county at an executive committee meeting in Albany Oct. 28 and 29. Discussion of present programs of the local TB and Health Association, financial status, present needs and future program will be carried on by the delegates. Robert Osborn, executive director of the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health of New York city, and Dr. Bernard Hughes, program director, will discuss problems with the members.

The Board of Directors voted at the meeting to present a scholarship of $300 as well as a loan to an Ulster County Public Health Nurse for part of a year's post graduate course in supervision in Public Health Nursing.

It was announced that Nov. 16 is the date set for the opening of the 1955 Christmas Seals Sales Campaign.

Nike Secrets Out

San Francisco, Sept. 29 (AP)—Hitherto secret details of nike, the guided missile guardian of major American target cities, were disclosed yesterday by the army on a tour of nike installations here. To illustrate how nike works, and to dispell unfounded rumors of the danger of nike installations, the army today took newsmen on a tour of some of the nike nests which ring the bay area and into the control center, where the plotting and firing will be done. The army spokesman was explicit and emphatic about the safety of the nike installations insofar as surrounding areas are concerned. But he was more secret as to the accuracy of the devices, how high, how far, and how fast will the missiles travel.

In 1940 there were 60 million dollars worth of $10,000 bills in circulation.

Much of western cowboy lore originated in Mexico, says the National Geographic Society.

EISENHOWER'S ILLNESS

As he rests in the hospital in Denver, President Eisenhower has with him the nation's and the free world's prayerful hopes for a swift recovery.

Few men in American public life have ever been held in such deep affection as he, and the people's first concern now is with the personal suffering and handicap he must endure as result of the heart attack which struck him down.

They know the crushing burdens of the presidency. They know that what has happened to Mr. Eisenhower is the risk any man takes who assumes this great responsibility.

The President undertook this load reluctantly, as a duty. But once into it, he tried more than most predecessors to organize his official life to escape some of the weight. For his frequently and sometimes lengthy vacations, he has been warmly criticized by his political opponents.

But they have consistently overlooked the fact that Mr. Eisenhower, in his working clothes, is a tense, high-paced executive who compacts into a few hours tasks that have taken other White House occupants far longer. Furthermore, even, a President's vacations are marked by steady attention to inescapable duties.

Now, despite all precautions, the President has been stricken. The people think of his misfortune as their own, not alone on account of their sympathy for him as a man they are fond of, but because they see in his well-being a prime self-interest.

To millions, both in America and beyond, Mr. Eisenhower is today the living symbol of the world's desire for lasting peace.

He is the man who brought the Korean war to an end, who resisted U. S. entry into the Indochina war, sought peaceful solutions in the touchy Formosan Straits, and at Geneva seemed to convince even the Russians that this nation wants to find answers to world problems without resort to arms.

It happens that the President now is also identified with the highest levels of prosperity this country has ever known. But it is the image of him as the man of peace that appears to explain best the remarkable hold he has on countless ordinary folk.

This trust, of course, was felt even before he won the presidency. It was the chief reason for his overwhelming victory in 1952. And it is the main one why he was regarded as unbeatable at the polls in 1956.

But his heart attack vastly alters the outlook for the coming presidential campaign. It is regrettable that this must be touched on in the early aftermath of Mr. Eisenhower's first physical distress, but the hard business of politics intrudes on every phase of a chief executive's life.

The blunt fact is that his illness greatly reduces if it does not actually end the prospect he will run for a second term.

Almost from the outset, he has not wanted to run again, and his family has opposed it. As recently as August 4, the President said his decision would depend on many factors, "including the way I feel—health and everything else." Often in the last few months he has warned the GOP not to pin all future hope on him.

Doctors may well settle the issue now by telling him that to carry on his burdens beyond this term might mean a sentence of death. But even if they do not, Mr. Eisenhower will have strong reason to say "no."

It is always remarked that "one heartbeat" separates the vice president from the White House. When that heartbeat is an uncertain one, all is changed.

So Mr. Eisenhower's misfortune is also his party's. The Republicans face the monumental task of finding a man to replace him who can command even a fair share of the esteem in which he is held by the American people.

Residents of New York State will have an added period of daylight saving time until October 30. Heretofore daylight saving time ended on the last Sunday in September.

An extension of daylight saving time from the last Sunday in September until the last Sunday in October was approved by the New York State Legislature at its session this year.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

ON EXERCISE AND FOOD

President Eisenhower, at the age of 64, played golf every day for six weeks, in rain or shine, except perhaps when he went fishing. It was a concentrated physical period, presumably with a degree of relaxation from the cares of state.

The question will long be debated whether all this physical exercise brought on his thrombosis or whether it might not have come all of itself because of his condition of arteriosclerosis. It is often noted that men who had lived active lives in business, after they retire at 65, take to the golf course or to rushing about the world on tours, and drop dead from a rebellious heart. For those who are accustomed to long hours at a desk, the suddenness of physical strain can indeed be dangerous. Despite the fact that President Eisenhower has been a soldier all his adult life, in recent years most of his work has been at a desk.

I cannot help contrasting Eisenhower's young years with such oldsters as Herbert Hoover (81), Bernard Baruch (85), or Arturo Toscanini (88). Hoover's life is entirely sedentary except for occasional spurts of fishing. Nevertheless, he is capable of enormous mental exertion for an enormous number of hours each day. He does not fatigue readily. Bernard Baruch, who cares for himself with unusual diligence, takes little exercise ordinarily but does like the sun and sits in it for long periods. He occasionally rides a horse and shoots birds.

Arturo Toscanini is now retired, but any conductor of a symphony orchestra taxes his body by terrific physical exercise for several hours during concerts and rehearsals. Few professional athletes involve as many muscles in exercise as one who leads such an orchestra. Pierre Monteux, who is 80, conducts a long opera at the Metropolitan, is constantly a guest conductor which requires travel all over the world and teaches conducting during the summer. Bruno Walter at 79 follows a similar regime.

From these examples, it is possible to conclude that there is no rule, that each human body is exceptional. However, when a man suffers from arteriosclerosis, he knows it. His blood pressure, for one thing, goes up. So does his temper. So does his tendency to be fatigued easily. A man whose blood pressure rises to 220 at 64 cannot for instance do all the things that a man of 50 can do with a blood pressure of under 150. I say, cannot—that is the wrong word—should not would be better.

The trouble with all of us is that having lived long, full, energetic lives, we refuse to recognize the facts of physical existence, one of which is that few who have led sedentary lives may suddenly take on concentrated exercise without risk. And very few of us are prepared to admit to ourselves that we cannot eat as much as we did when we were growing boys.

It is along in middle age that Americans, together with what we like to call leisure, believe themselves to be gourmets, which, in this country may mean little more than learning how to eat an educated hamburger. All over the country, portly men, during the summer, barbecue steaks really spoiling good meat with layers of indigestible condiments to which Hindus but not Americans are accustomed. They eat raw onions on which the children of Italy are reared but which have only become fashionable in this country in recent years as a garnishing of hamburgers and hard boiled eggs. They generally enjoy themselves and overeat—with attendant results.

The answer to all this is, "Be your age!" or to put it more accurately, "Know Thyself!" But who am I to preach—I who have broken all the rules of physical life? The answer is that only those who broke those rules can know the consequences from personal experiences. There comes a time in each man's life when he must learn that a baby is fed huge quantities of milk to make bones but that an arthritic must avoid excess calcium and that while a lot of steak and corn on the cob with lots of butter may be the greatest joy outdoors, such fare does not help the diabetic. And while golf may be a wonderful game, a man with high blood pressure cannot afford violent exercise under a blazing sun.

SPEECH READING AND HEARING AIDS

Yesterday we were talking about the failing hearing of old age, presbycusis, and the fact that there is known no effective method of treatment for it. However, aside from those who speak to such patients following certain rules of speaking, there are two methods which may help such patients understand those about them better.

One such method is speech reading, commonly called "lip reading" which is of great value for persons with presbycusis since it is effective for consonants which are more poorly heard than vowels in this condition. Everyone reads speech to some degree and many persons who lose their hearing become highly proficient speech readers without voluntary effort. Conscious and careful observation of the speaker while listening will improve efficiency and instruction by an experienced teacher also facilitates learning. Lists of publications are available from the American Hearing Society, Washington, D. C., or your local branch of the Hard of Hearing Society.

Hearing aids are useful for persons with presbycusis when the loss of hearing becomes great enough to require increased loudness. The speaking tube is useful for some persons who cannot cope with the more complex electronic devices. The electric hearing aid, generally the most useful instrument, is a miniature amplifying system consisting of microphone, battery, amplifier and speaker. Its sole purpose is to increase loudness of sounds reaching the ear. The instrument does not clarify indistinct signals nor eliminate unwanted sounds.

The hearing aid is most useful for ears whose hearing decreases gradually from low to high tones. A hearing aid is helpful to persons whose hearing threshold for the better ear is 35 decibels or more. Ears having a threshold of 90 decibels or more will derive little or no benefit from a hearing aid.

The instrument should be worn in the poorer ear if the better ear provides some hearing for conversation. Persons with presbycusis derive best results from an instrument equipped with air-condition receiver worn directly in the air.

Persons with presbycusis do not achieve perfect hearing with a hearing aid. Theirs is a nerve defect not fully compensated by having sounds amplified and many of them have poor listening habits and are inattentive. Sometimes there is decrease in ability to concentrate and think which causes additional loss of understanding for speech in some patients. Retraining the listening habits requires up to six months of persistent and conscientious practice with the instrument. For ultimate satisfaction, the patient should not expect the impossible and should allow adequate time to learn the use of his instrument.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

Denver (NEA)—Ike and Mamie may have been the No. 1 item of conversation in this town a few weeks ago. But they're now running second to talk about what kind of a football team the new Air Academy—temporarily housed at Lowery Air Force base here—is going to have.

This happens to be a touchy subject to the Air Force because they're trying to avoid any criticism of too much emphasis on athletics. Already in Washington there have been a few bombs dropped in the Pentagon and by congressmen on this subject.

In fact, one congressman says that he intends to investigate rumors that all last spring the Air Force had a group of jet pilots buzzing around the country recruiting outstanding high school football players. The big pitch was the honor of being a member of the first Air Force Academy class.

Needless to say, Academy officials deny this, although just about every other Air Force officer you talk to thinks it should have been done, if it wasn't.

AMONG THE AIR Academy's first class, now whittled down to 296 young men, 127 were outstanding high school football players and another 60 won varsity letters in other sports. Although this first class is small, first-year classes at Annapolis and West Point do not have many more athletes.

Also, it's a cinch that if Navy Coach Eddie Erdelatz and Army's Earl Blaik got a look at the fast, rangy crew of youngsters at practice here they'd be green with envy. These lads would be the delight of any college coach.

The plan is for the freshman team to play a few prep schools or small colleges this year and maybe take on more smaller colleges during the next two years. Then, when the present crop of hot freshman prospects are seniors, and after that, the school will move into big-time college competition.

Since classes began the Academy has lost five students including a couple of good athletes. It was found that some of the lads couldn't pass the final physical requirements. And the rest, it was learned through interviews, really hadn't wanted to come to the Academy in the first place. They had been shoved into applying by their parents and were strictly lukewarm about military careers.

WISELY, ACADEMY OFFICIALS decided that it would be better for both parties if these lads were quietly permitted to go back to carving a career in civilian life.

However, if the whole business of overemphasizing athletics at the new academy ever reaches the stage of a congressional investigation, the air force can produce Brig. Gen. Don Zimmerman, dean of the faculty, and his staff to convince anyone that education will come first.

The fact is, they've come up with some ideas on planning courses and setting academic standards which are likely to be borrowed by plenty of civilian universities before long.

There's going to be heavy emphasis on teaching English. And it's not going to end after each English class. A man's grade in any course, political science or chemistry, will depend in part on his use of proper English during recitations and on exams.

THEY'VE COME UP WITH a new idea to climax the extended history, political science and economics courses taught during the first three years. In their senior years students will be formed into groups which will take up specific national and international issues. A whole year will be devoted to reports, studies and analyses of these issues.

The same idea is being applied to the sciences. In their senior year the men will be put into groups to design a complete aircraft, for example. The men who showed special aptitude for power-plant engineering will have to design the engine for the plane. And so on.

General Zimmerman's staff believe that this teaching technique will give students a sense of completeness about their education, not experienced by all college graduates in civilian universities.

The ultimate goal is to give graduates a broader outlook on life than most military men now enjoy.

In addition to these new curriculum theories there will be heavy use of such practical teaching methods as small classes and teaching with TV.

Soviet Arms Sale to Egypt Is Big Factor in U.S. Politics

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 29—The big story today in national politics is not confined to the effect of President Eisenhower's illness on the 1956 campaign, but it directly and concretely involves what policies the Department of State eventually adopts toward the sale by Soviet Russia of arms to Egypt.

For these policies can have a clear-cut and controlling impact on the electoral vote of New York state and other key states, too.

To understand the deep-seated implications of that story, it is necessary to bear in mind that a large part of the Jewish vote—for sentimental reasons similar to those which for years motivated Irish voters in America who were interested in the independence of Ireland—is decidedly sympathetic to Israel. Any move which helps Egypt to harass the little Republic in the future will have its serious repercussions in certain big cities which can influence greatly where the electoral vote goes in New York, New Jersey, Illinois, Pennsylvania and other states.

IN 1948, when President Truman was a candidate to succeed himself, he had a hard time raising money for his campaign. Governor Dewey was out in front, and all the polls indicated that he would win easily. It was important for the Trumanites to raise not a few dollars but big money to pay for raido time and other vitally important expenses of the last few weeks of the campaign. Mr. Truman's statements about Palestine, promising recognition and loans to Israel, got a better reception than the views of Dewey on the same subject. In the State Department there was a lukewarm attitude toward Israel. Indeed, efforts to get a loan from the American government for the fledgling republic were reported as being blocked in the Department of State because of the pressure of certain American companies with interests in the Arab world.

Mr. Truman changed everything. He was outspoken in his sympathy for Israel and, without the funds that came from Jewish sources, veteran Democrats familiar with what happened say the 1948 campaign couldn't have been financed.

BOTH REPUBLICAN and Democratic candidates for high office and local posts have had to declare themselves on the Israel issue in certain localities, and in varying degrees they have usually shown a desire by such tactics to win the Jewish vote.

Today Israel is an important factor in American politics, as all practical politicians will acknowledge. The hostility between Israel and the Arab states has led Soviet Russia to meddle in troubled waters. Earlier this week the news leaked out that the United States was willing "in principle" to sell arms to Egypt. The State Department hinted that this was not by any means a consummated arrangement, but merely a proclamation of willingness to sell arms only for local defense and protection against aggression.

BUT ALMOST immediately afterward came the news that the government of Czechoslovakia, a puppet of Moscow, had agreed to sell Egypt all the arms sought by that country, and that the United States government had really been trying to stall shipment of arms into the Middle East. Confused reports from Great Britain, saying that the British opposed the American plan to sell arms to Egypt, were clarified later by a joint statement by Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Minister Macmillan in New York. They explained that the two governments were in agreement. It was apparent they hoped to forestall the sale of any Communist arms to Egypt.

What seems to be called for in the present circumstances is a limitation on arms to the whole area, at least until the exact purposes and possible use of such arms are clarified. A warning to both Cairo and Moscow that no arms shall be brought in until the present tension between the countries of the Middle East is clarified, would appear to be inevitable. Secretary Dulles has already approached Foreign Minister Molotov on the subject.

IT CERTAINLY seems a paradox that the Moscow government, which has been preaching peace and disarmament for the last several months, should be so ready to arm Egypt, whose only reason for seeking such arms is considered by Israel's supporters to be the potential use of such arms against Israel. Certainly there is no danger of an attack on Egypt from Soviet Russia, nor of any attack by any other country outside the Middle East.

The NATO organization is an example of a military setup that is international rather than national. The same formula of integrated military units on a regional basis could be applied to the Middle East if the Western powers took a firm stand. To allow Egypt to become an armed ally of Soviet Russia would be a victory for the Communists in the "cold war." To persuade Egypt to avoid alignment with the Communists who would stir up more friction with Israel becomes a logical aim of anglo-American policy. It is a significant development in the whole "cold war," as well as in American politics.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Rome—A culture fest recently ran three days in Rome under the joint auspices of a letterhead organization called the Congress of European-American Associations, the Italian-American Association and the Department of Culture of the American Embassy.

The congress is wraith-like and the association is a futile little thing. The Department of Culture of the Embassy took no acknowledged part in organizing the clambake, but one John Brown, identified in the program as the American attache for culture, was one of the speakers.

The political character of the other American speakers and certain further evidence indicate that Henry Luce and his wife, the ambassador, picked the non-official windjammers who came from the United States to strew pearls of culture in the ancient gloomy halls of the Palace Antici-Mattei. There were Paul Hoffman, of the Ford Fund for the Republic and late master of the fabulous American squanderbund, Erwin Canham, editor of the Christine Science Monitor of Boston, Eric Johnston, special representative of President Eisenhower, and Herbert Agar, described as "Author, U.S.A."

Hoffman is the only one I was able to catch. He did not know exactly what person invited him. First he thought it might have been Prince Bernhard, of the Netherlands. Then it might have been Madam Bidault, of France, whose husband has been both premier and president. Then he was pretty sure it was not Madam Bidault. At the second day of the hoe-down I thought I had captured Canham, but he got away. He blasted Joe McCarthy to the hot indignation of numerous members of the Christian Science Church who are now after his job. Edmund Stevens, the Monitor's Rome correspondent, thinks this revolt will not amount to much As to his own social error in serving booze at a reception in his home for Irving Brown, the veteran deluxe beachcomber of the European capitals and a bloodthirsty but strictly rhetorical Communist of the anti-Kremlin school, Mr. Stevens said: "I trust they are broad-minded enough," back in the mother church, "to understand that when you entertain a bunch of newspapermen you don't serve lemonade." That remains to be seen. It is a theological question and individual Christian Scientists have doubted my assertion that Mr. Stevens' little gala was a cocktail party. He affrms that whatever you call the party liquor was served.

Canham was one of about 80 individuals in the meeting one of the two days that I attended. However, he does not know me nor vice versa and although Miss Rosamund Gilder, described as director of the U. S. International Theatre Institute, tried to snag him for me, when the people straggled away she missed him. I wanted to ask Canham who invited him and why and who paid his expenses. It would be hard to defend a proposition that he is either a worthy representative of American Journalism or a distinguished writer. He is a propagandist and he flatly charged in a letter to Basil Brewer, publisher of the New Bedford Standard Times, that editors who supported McCarthy were not only mistaken but dishonest. He lectured on "the responsibility of the written word." I asked Stevens who invited Canham and paid his expenses and he said: "As far as I know the organization handled the whole thing."

Mrs. Elena Postios, secretary of the "Organizing Committee" of the Italo-American Association, said she did not know who invited either Hoffman or Canham. Neither did Miss Gilder, who appears to be an American but said when I asked her "I am international." She was upset because I persisted in asking who invited these Americans and why and who paid the freight. When I said "I certainly am not being rude to you" she said "No, not rude. But you are so aggressive." I said I stood for the people's right to know.

The second time I groped my way to the palace, down past the great square where Mussolini's balcony stil catches the tourist eye, they had run out of gas and the contractor was hauling away the chairs, tables, red carpets and other props. The Palace Antici-Mattei is up a side street and hard to find. One hackman hauled me all over town looking for it and another appealed to three cops before we surrounded it.

Herbert Agar is an inveterate New Deal political pleader and internationalist. He formerly worked on the Louisville Courier-Journal. Johnston is a New Deal lawyer with political drag who represents the movie industry in law and politics. He believes his own publicity.

Growing Breadline

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—More than three years ago, T. E. Elkins, a bakery route salesman, fed a loaf of bread to a bunch of pigeons—now he has a daily breadline for hundreds. The birds gather at 7 o'clock each morning to share a couple of loaves of stale bread and the 61-year-old driver says he has counted as many as 324 of them at breakfast. Elkins draws the line at feeding them on Sundays when he's not working but does arrange for his relief driver to lay out the chow when he's on vacation. Sometimes Elkins has to drive seagulls away from the food but he has only praise for the manners of the pigeons, saying: "Pigeons are polite. They don't run all over each other, they don't make any noise and they don't fight over their food."

Machine Age

Sheriff Palmer led a raid that ended with the smashing of 32 slot machines. He then passed the word around he wanted all other hidden machines turned in quickly. Two mornings later, Sheriff Palmer peeked out the window and eight machines were lined up in his yard.

The blunt fact is that his illness greatly reduces if it does not actually end the prospect he will run for a second term.

Almost from the outset, he has not wanted to run again, and his family has opposed it. As recently as August 4, the President said his decision would depend on many factors, "including the way I feel—health and everything else." Often in the last few months he has warned the GOP not to pin all future hope on him.

Doctors may well settle the issue now by telling him that to carry on his burdens beyond this term might mean a sentence of death. But even if they do not, Mr. Eisenhower will have strong reason to say "no."

It is always remarked that "one heartbeat" separates the vice president from the White House. When that heartbeat is an uncertain one, all is changed.

So Mr. Eisenhower's misfortune is also his party's. The Republicans face the monumental task of finding a man to replace him who can command even a fair share of the esteem in which he is held by the American people.

Residents of New York State will have an added period of daylight saving time until October 30. Heretofore daylight saving time ended on the last Sunday in September.

An extension of daylight saving time from the last Sunday in September until the last Sunday in October was approved by the New York State Legislature at its session this year.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

ON EXERCISE AND FOOD

President Eisenhower, at the age of 64, played golf every day for six weeks, in rain or shine, except perhaps when he went fishing. It was a concentrated physical period, presumably with a degree of relaxation from the cares of state.

The question will long be debated whether all this physical exercise brought on his thrombosis or whether it might not have come all of itself because of his condition of arteriosclerosis. It is often noted that men who had lived active lives in business, after they retire at 65, take to the golf course or to rushing about the world on tours, and drop dead from a rebellious heart. For those who are accustomed to long hours at a desk, the suddenness of physical strain can indeed be dangerous. Despite the fact that President Eisenhower has been a soldier all his adult life, in recent years most of his work has been at a desk.

I cannot help contrasting Eisenhower's young years with such oldsters as Herbert Hoover (81), Bernard Baruch (85), or Arturo Toscanini (88). Hoover's life is entirely sedentary except for occasional spurts of fishing. Nevertheless, he is capable of enormous mental exertion for an enormous number of hours each day. He does not fatigue readily. Bernard Baruch, who cares for himself with unusual diligence, takes little exercise ordinarily but does like the sun and sits in it for long periods. He occasionally rides a horse and shoots birds.

Arturo Toscanini is now retired, but any conductor of a symphony orchestra taxes his body by terrific physical exercise for several hours during concerts and rehearsals. Few professional athletes involve as many muscles in exercise as one who leads such an orchestra. Pierre Monteux, who is 80, conducts a long opera at the Metropolitan, is constantly a guest conductor which requires travel all over the world and teaches conducting during the summer. Bruno Walter at 79 follows a similar regime.

From these examples, it is possible to conclude that there is no rule, that each human body is exceptional. However, when a man suffers from arteriosclerosis, he knows it. His blood pressure, for one thing, goes up. So does his temper. So does his tendency to be fatigued easily. A man whose blood pressure rises to 220 at 64 cannot for instance do all the things that a man of 50 can do with a blood pressure of under 150. I say, cannot—that is the wrong word—should not would be better.

The trouble with all of us is that having lived long, full, energetic lives, we refuse to recognize the facts of physical existence, one of which is that few who have led sedentary lives may suddenly take on concentrated exercise without risk. And very few of us are prepared to admit to ourselves that we cannot eat as much as we did when we were growing boys.

It is along in middle age that Americans, together with what we like to call leisure, believe themselves to be gourmets, which, in this country may mean little more than learning how to eat an educated hamburger. All over the country, portly men, during the summer, barbecue steaks really spoiling good meat with layers of indigestible condiments to which Hindus but not Americans are accustomed. They eat raw onions on which the children of Italy are reared but which have only become fashionable in this country in recent years as a garnishing of hamburgers and hard boiled eggs. They generally enjoy themselves and overeat—with attendant results.

The answer to all this is, "Be your age!" or to put it more accurately, "Know Thyself!" But who am I to preach—I who have broken all the rules of physical life? The answer is that only those who broke those rules can know the consequences from personal experiences. There comes a time in each man's life when he must learn that a baby is fed huge quantities of milk to make bones but that an arthritic must avoid excess calcium and that while a lot of steak and corn on the cob with lots of butter may be the greatest joy outdoors, such fare does not help the diabetic. And while golf may be a wonderful game, a man with high blood pressure cannot afford violent exercise under a blazing sun.

That Body of Yours

SPEECH READING AND HEARING AIDS

Yesterday we were talking about the failing hearing of old age, presbycusis, and the fact that there is known no effective method of treatment for it. However, aside from those who speak to such patients following certain rules of speaking, there are two methods which may help such patients understand those about them better.

One such method is speech reading, commonly called "lip reading" which is of great value for persons with presbycusis since it is effective for consonants which are more poorly heard than vowels in this condition. Everyone reads speech to some degree and many persons who lose their hearing become highly proficient speech readers without voluntary effort. Conscious and careful observation of the speaker while listening will improve efficiency and instruction by an experienced teacher also facilitates learning. Lists of publications are available from the American Hearing Society, Washington, D. C., or your local branch of the Hard of Hearing Society.

Hearing aids are useful for persons with presbycusis when the loss of hearing becomes great enough to require increased loudness. The speaking tube is useful for some persons who cannot cope with the more complex electronic devices. The electric hearing aid, generally the most useful instrument, is a miniature amplifying system consisting of microphone, battery, amplifier and speaker. Its sole purpose is to increase loudness of sounds reaching the ear. The instrument does not clarify indistinct signals nor eliminate unwanted sounds.

The hearing aid is most useful for ears whose hearing decreases gradually from low to high tones. A hearing aid is helpful to persons whose hearing threshold for the better ear is 35 decibels or more. Ears having a threshold of 90 decibels or more will derive little or no benefit from a hearing aid.

The instrument should be worn in the poorer ear if the better ear provides some hearing for conversation. Persons with presbycusis derive best results from an instrument equipped with air-condition receiver worn directly in the air.

Persons with presbycusis do not achieve perfect hearing with a hearing aid. Theirs is a nerve defect not fully compensated by having sounds amplified and many of them have poor listening habits and are inattentive. Sometimes there is decrease in ability to concentrate and think which causes additional loss of understanding for speech in some patients. Retraining the listening habits requires up to six months of persistent and conscientious practice with the instrument. For ultimate satisfaction, the patient should not expect the impossible and should allow adequate time to learn the use of his instrument.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

Denver (NEA)—Ike and Mamie may have been the No. 1 item of conversation in this town a few weeks ago. But they're now running second to talk about what kind of a football team the new Air Academy—temporarily housed at Lowery Air Force base here—is going to have.

This happens to be a touchy subject to the Air Force because they're trying to avoid any criticism of too much emphasis on athletics. Already in Washington there have been a few bombs dropped in the Pentagon and by congressmen on this subject.

In fact, one congressman says that he intends to investigate rumors that all last spring the Air Force had a group of jet pilots buzzing around the country recruiting outstanding high school football players. The big pitch was the honor of being a member of the first Air Force Academy class.

Needless to say, Academy officials deny this, although just about every other Air Force officer you talk to thinks it should have been done, if it wasn't.

AMONG THE AIR Academy's first class, now whittled down to 296 young men, 127 were outstanding high school football players and another 60 won varsity letters in other sports. Although this first class is small, first-year classes at Annapolis and West Point do not have many more athletes.

Also, it's a cinch that if Navy Coach Eddie Erdelatz and Army's Earl Blaik got a look at the fast, rangy crew of youngsters at practice here they'd be green with envy. These lads would be the delight of any college coach.

The plan is for the freshman team to play a few prep schools or small colleges this year and maybe take on more smaller colleges during the next two years. Then, when the present crop of hot freshman prospects are seniors, and after that, the school will move into big-time college competition.

Since classes began the Academy has lost five students including a couple of good athletes. It was found that some of the lads couldn't pass the final physical requirements. And the rest, it was learned through interviews, really hadn't wanted to come to the Academy in the first place. They had been shoved into applying by their parents and were strictly lukewarm about military careers.

WISELY, ACADEMY OFFICIALS decided that it would be better for both parties if these lads were quietly permitted to go back to carving a career in civilian life.

However, if the whole business of overemphasizing athletics at the new academy ever reaches the stage of a congressional investigation, the air force can produce Brig. Gen. Don Zimmerman, dean of the faculty, and his staff to convince anyone that education will come first.

The fact is, they've come up with some ideas on planning courses and setting academic standards which are likely to be borrowed by plenty of civilian universities before long.

There's going to be heavy emphasis on teaching English. And it's not going to end after each English class. A man's grade in any course, political science or chemistry, will depend in part on his use of proper English during recitations and on exams.

THEY'VE COME UP WITH a new idea to climax the extended history, political science and economics courses taught during the first three years. In their senior years students will be formed into groups which will take up specific national and international issues. A whole year will be devoted to reports, studies and analyses of these issues.

The same idea is being applied to the sciences. In their senior year the men will be put into groups to design a complete aircraft, for example. The men who showed special aptitude for power-plant engineering will have to design the engine for the plane. And so on.

General Zimmerman's staff believe that this teaching technique will give students a sense of completeness about their education, not experienced by all college graduates in civilian universities.

The ultimate goal is to give graduates a broader outlook on life than most military men now enjoy.

In addition to these new curriculum theories there will be heavy use of such practical teaching methods as small classes and teaching with TV.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 29—The big story today in national politics is not confined to the effect of President Eisenhower's illness on the 1956 campaign, but it directly and concretely involves what policies the Department of State eventually adopts toward the sale by Soviet Russia of arms to Egypt.

For these policies can have a clear-cut and controlling impact on the electoral vote of New York state and other key states, too.

To understand the deep-seated implications of that story, it is necessary to bear in mind that a large part of the Jewish vote—for sentimental reasons similar to those which for years motivated Irish voters in America who were interested in the independence of Ireland—is decidedly sympathetic to Israel. Any move which helps Egypt to harass the little Republic in the future will have its serious repercussions in certain big cities which can influence greatly where the electoral vote goes in New York, New Jersey, Illinois, Pennsylvania and other states.

IN 1948, when President Truman was a candidate to succeed himself, he had a hard time raising money for his campaign. Governor Dewey was out in front, and all the polls indicated that he would win easily. It was important for the Trumanites to raise not a few dollars but big money to pay for raido time and other vitally important expenses of the last few weeks of the campaign. Mr. Truman's statements about Palestine, promising recognition and loans to Israel, got a better reception than the views of Dewey on the same subject. In the State Department there was a lukewarm attitude toward Israel. Indeed, efforts to get a loan from the American government for the fledgling republic were reported as being blocked in the Department of State because of the pressure of certain American companies with interests in the Arab world.

Mr. Truman changed everything. He was outspoken in his sympathy for Israel and, without the funds that came from Jewish sources, veteran Democrats familiar with what happened say the 1948 campaign couldn't have been financed.

BOTH REPUBLICAN and Democratic candidates for high office and local posts have had to declare themselves on the Israel issue in certain localities, and in varying degrees they have usually shown a desire by such tactics to win the Jewish vote.

Today Israel is an important factor in American politics, as all practical politicians will acknowledge. The hostility between Israel and the Arab states has led Soviet Russia to meddle in troubled waters. Earlier this week the news leaked out that the United States was willing "in principle" to sell arms to Egypt. The State Department hinted that this was not by any means a consummated arrangement, but merely a proclamation of willingness to sell arms only for local defense and protection against aggression.

BUT ALMOST immediately afterward came the news that the government of Czechoslovakia, a puppet of Moscow, had agreed to sell Egypt all the arms sought by that country, and that the United States government had really been trying to stall shipment of arms into the Middle East. Confused reports from Great Britain, saying that the British opposed the American plan to sell arms to Egypt, were clarified later by a joint statement by Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Minister Macmillan in New York. They explained that the two governments were in agreement. It was apparent they hoped to forestall the sale of any Communist arms to Egypt.

What seems to be called for in the present circumstances is a limitation on arms to the whole area, at least until the exact purposes and possible use of such arms are clarified. A warning to both Cairo and Moscow that no arms shall be brought in until the present tension between the countries of the Middle East is clarified, would appear to be inevitable. Secretary Dulles has already approached Foreign Minister Molotov on the subject.

IT CERTAINLY seems a paradox that the Moscow government, which has been preaching peace and disarmament for the last several months, should be so ready to arm Egypt, whose only reason for seeking such arms is considered by Israel's supporters to be the potential use of such arms against Israel. Certainly there is no danger of an attack on Egypt from Soviet Russia, nor of any attack by any other country outside the Middle East.

The NATO organization is an example of a military setup that is international rather than national. The same formula of integrated military units on a regional basis could be applied to the Middle East if the Western powers took a firm stand. To allow Egypt to become an armed ally of Soviet Russia would be a victory for the Communists in the "cold war." To persuade Egypt to avoid alignment with the Communists who would stir up more friction with Israel becomes a logical aim of anglo-American policy. It is a significant development in the whole "cold war," as well as in American politics.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Rome—A culture fest recently ran three days in Rome under the joint auspices of a letterhead organization called the Congress of European-American Associations, the Italian-American Association and the Department of Culture of the American Embassy.

The congress is wraith-like and the association is a futile little thing. The Department of Culture of the Embassy took no acknowledged part in organizing the clambake, but one John Brown, identified in the program as the American attache for culture, was one of the speakers.

The political character of the other American speakers and certain further evidence indicate that Henry Luce and his wife, the ambassador, picked the non-official windjammers who came from the United States to strew pearls of culture in the ancient gloomy halls of the Palace Antici-Mattei. There were Paul Hoffman, of the Ford Fund for the Republic and late master of the fabulous American squanderbund, Erwin Canham, editor of the Christine Science Monitor of Boston, Eric Johnston, special representative of President Eisenhower, and Herbert Agar, described as "Author, U.S.A."

Hoffman is the only one I was able to catch. He did not know exactly what person invited him. First he thought it might have been Prince Bernhard, of the Netherlands. Then it might have been Madam Bidault, of France, whose husband has been both premier and president. Then he was pretty sure it was not Madam Bidault. At the second day of the hoe-down I thought I had captured Canham, but he got away. He blasted Joe McCarthy to the hot indignation of numerous members of the Christian Science Church who are now after his job. Edmund Stevens, the Monitor's Rome correspondent, thinks this revolt will not amount to much As to his own social error in serving booze at a reception in his home for Irving Brown, the veteran deluxe beachcomber of the European capitals and a bloodthirsty but strictly rhetorical Communist of the anti-Kremlin school, Mr. Stevens said: "I trust they are broad-minded enough," back in the mother church, "to understand that when you entertain a bunch of newspapermen you don't serve lemonade." That remains to be seen. It is a theological question and individual Christian Scientists have doubted my assertion that Mr. Stevens' little gala was a cocktail party. He affrms that whatever you call the party liquor was served.

Canham was one of about 80 individuals in the meeting one of the two days that I attended. However, he does not know me nor vice versa and although Miss Rosamund Gilder, described as director of the U. S. International Theatre Institute, tried to snag him for me, when the people straggled away she missed him. I wanted to ask Canham who invited him and why and who paid his expenses. It would be hard to defend a proposition that he is either a worthy representative of American Journalism or a distinguished writer. He is a propagandist and he flatly charged in a letter to Basil Brewer, publisher of the New Bedford Standard Times, that editors who supported McCarthy were not only mistaken but dishonest. He lectured on "the responsibility of the written word." I asked Stevens who invited Canham and paid his expenses and he said: "As far as I know the organization handled the whole thing."

Mrs. Elena Postios, secretary of the "Organizing Committee" of the Italo-American Association, said she did not know who invited either Hoffman or Canham. Neither did Miss Gilder, who appears to be an American but said when I asked her "I am international." She was upset because I persisted in asking who invited these Americans and why and who paid the freight. When I said "I certainly am not being rude to you" she said "No, not rude. But you are so aggressive." I said I stood for the people's right to know.

The second time I groped my way to the palace, down past the great square where Mussolini's balcony stil catches the tourist eye, they had run out of gas and the contractor was hauling away the chairs, tables, red carpets and other props. The Palace Antici-Mattei is up a side street and hard to find. One hackman hauled me all over town looking for it and another appealed to three cops before we surrounded it.

Herbert Agar is an inveterate New Deal political pleader and internationalist. He formerly worked on the Louisville Courier-Journal. Johnston is a New Deal lawyer with political drag who represents the movie industry in law and politics. He believes his own publicity.

Growing Breadline

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—More than three years ago, T. E. Elkins, a bakery route salesman, fed a loaf of bread to a bunch of pigeons — now he has a daily breadline for hundreds. The birds gather at 7 o'clock each morning to share a couple of loaves of stale bread and the 61-year-old driver says he has counted as many as 324 of them at breakfast. Elkins draws the line at feeding them on Sundays when he's not working but does arrange for his relief driver to lay out the chow when he's on vacation. Sometimes Elkins has to drive seagulls away from the food but he has only praise for the manners of the pigeons, saying: "Pigeons are polite. They don't run all over each other, they don't make any noise and they don't fight over their food."

Machine Age

Clinton, La. (AP)—Eight slot machines have sprouted on the front lawn of Sheriff N. L. Palmer—but no one doubts his honesty. Sheriff Palmer led a raid that ended with the smashing of 32 slot machines. He then passed the word around he wanted all other hidden machines turned in quickly. Two mornings later, Sheriff Palmer peeked out the window and eight machines were lined up in his yard.

Papa Pays

Monrovia, Calif. (AP)—"Daddy, give me a penny," implored Richard Meza, 2. Michael Meza did, but wishes he hadn't. Richard disappeared, then came back moments later, wailing: "I want my money back." Daddy didn't know what the boy was talking about—until he smelled smoke and investigated. He found that Richard had put the coin in the cigar lighter of the family car, causing a short that touched off a fire. Papa put out the fire, but junior isn't getting his money back.

Cub Pack 13 Holds Meeting at Lawton

Cub Pack 13, sponsored by the P-TA of Public School 6 had its September Pack meeting at the Lawton Park Lodge this week and the attendance filled the room to overflowing. While all the Cubs and their parents arrived the lads slipped into their forest-green costumes complete with bows, arrows, quivers, and feathered caps. In a short space of time approximately 20 Bowmen and a Friar Tuck were playing Robin Hood in their imaginary Sherwood Forrest.

The program was opened by a flag ceremony put on by Den Chief Andrew Angstrom and six Cubs from Den 2. After the pledge to the flag the honor guard gave the four points of the Cub Scout Law as they stepped forward right hand high, two fingers extended in their salute.

Bear Cub Scout Robert Lane was awarded his gold arrow for accomplishing 10 achievements and was issued his Denner stripes in recognition of his rank in Den 1. Gary Terwilliger was awarded his Bear badge and also received his Assistant Denner stripe, from Cub Master Clement Angstrom.

John Brown of Den 2 received his Denner stripes from the Cub Master and along with his brother Tom, was awarded gold and silver arrows to their Wolf badges for having put in hard work with their achievements.

This meeting was the first for the newly-organized Den 3. Mrs. Frank Storm is the den mother and is assisted by Mrs. Justin Beck Sr., who received her den mother's pin. Scout Frank Storm Jr., of Troop 3 is the den chief. Six boys were then given Bob Cat pins in a very solemn and serious ceremony. One at a time each lad was called to the front with his parents. The Cub Master passed the "light of Cubbing" to the father and in turn the mother's and Cub's candles were lit. Finally the boy lit the bottom candle of the stairs of light which advance to the Weblos stage. The boys and parents from Den 2 and Den 3 who participated in the ceremony were:

Den 2—Frank Hample with Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Hample.

Den 3—Robert Bates with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bates, Justin Beck with Mrs. Justin Beck Sr., Terry Breitenstein with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Breitenstein, Robert Schnitzer, and Robert Toffel with Mr. and Mrs. Phil Toffel.

REGISTRATION cards were presented to the chairman of the Pack Committee and Edward Safford, committeeman. Den Chiefs Jack Angstrom, Andrew Angstrom and Frank Storm presented a skit to everyones amusement. It was a pantomine on baseball pitching and catching. Their antics over the slow ball, about face with the roundhouse, and facewiping from the spit ball had everyone laughing. Refreshments of soda and cookies were served by Den Mother Mrs. Clement Angstrom and Mrs. Wolf. The last events of the evening ball bouncing and bean bag tossing. The four Cubs who earned the highest points were awarded replicas of the Golden Arrow of Robin Hood.

The fun-packed evening drew to a close as all the Cubs formed the Living Circle and repeated the Cub Scout Oath with a final and robust "Good night Scouts." The Pack Committee announces that Pack 13 will surely be in step with the October theme "Busy as a Bee." The Cubs will visit the firehouses during Fire Prevention Week, go to the New York Telephone Company Open House to watch switchboard operators, attend the Kingston Model R. R. Club's annual exhibition, participate in a WKNY TV program Oct. 3, and end up with a movie or talk with regards to bee keeping.

Cub Pack 13 is proud to be among the other Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts that are a part of the Kingston Area Boy Scouts which participates in the Kingston Area Community Chest.

Teachers Group To Meet at Paltz College, Oct. 3

Members of the newly-formed Ulster County Teacher's Association will meet at New Paltz State Teachers College for the first fall conference Monday, Oct. 3. The association is comprised of more than 450 teachers in the county.

Gordon P. Lovell, director of IBM Education, will speak at 9:30 a. m. to the group on the subject, "Preparing the Student for a Place in American Business."

AFTER THE TALK, a business meeting will be held at which time the business of ratifying the constitution will be brought before the members. The slate of officers as presented at the meeting last June will once again be placed before the members. These officers who have been acting in a temporary capacity since the spring are: Kenneth E. Hasbrouck, president; Mrs. Mary Cawston, first vice president; Mrs. Juliann Grandchamp, second vice president; Mrs. Bernard Stahl, treasurer; Mrs. Bernice Jansen, recording secretary and Mrs. Ilene Compton, corresponding secretary. Nominations will be requested from the floor.

After a lunch at the cafeteria of the Student Union Building, a work shop program has been planned. Teachers in the various subject fields will have an opportuniay to meet together and discuss problems that effect them. It is hoped that such groups will be able to gain some new ideas from the meeting and perhaps plan ways in which they can get together more often.

MANY OF THE arrangements for the meeting have been made through the kindness of Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the New Paltz State Teachers College.

Gordon P. Lovell, director of IBM Education, will speak at 9:30 a. m. to the group on the subject, "Preparing the Student for a Place in American Business."

AFTER THE TALK, a business meeting will be held at which time the business of ratifying the constitution will be brought before the members. The slate of officers as presented at the meeting last June will once again be placed before the members. These officers who have been acting in a temporary capacity since the spring are: Kenneth E. Hasbrouck, president; Mrs. Mary Cawston, first vice president; Mrs. Juliann Grandchamp, second vice president; Mrs. Bernard Stahl, treasurer; Mrs. Bernice Jansen, recording secretary and Mrs. Ilene Compton, corresponding secretary. Nominations will be requested from the floor.

After a lunch at the cafeteria of the Student Union Building, a work shop program has been planned. Teachers in the various subject fields will have an opportuniay to meet together and discuss problems that effect them. It is hoped that such groups will be able to gain some new ideas from the meeting and perhaps plan ways in which they can get together more often.

Meet With Johnson

Stonewall, Tex., Sept. 29 (AP)—Three of the Democratic party's top men ate breakfast together at Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's Pedernales river ranch here today and probably had a lot to say about politics. In addition to Johnson, Senate majority leader, they were Adlai Stevenson, titular head of the national party, and House Speaker Sam Rayburn who hopes to get the South back into the Democratic column in 1956. They spent the night as Johnson's guests following Stevenson's lecture before a crowd of 5,500 at the University of Texas in Austin last night.

To the many friends of our mother, the late Louise Vandermark of Accord, N. Y., we want to thank you for all the cards, flowers, sunshine box, and all the kind remembrances to her while in the hospital. Signed,

DAUGHTER & SONS.

President . . .

dications are that it won't be announced until next spring. Eisenhower has indicated as much himself at news conferences in Washington.

AT THE TEMPORARY White House here, there is little tendency to look beyond the immediate future and concentrate on giving Eisenhower every opportunity to get well again.

James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary, said that Eisenhower has suffered no pain since Tuesday, that he no longer is running a temperature, that his morale is high, appearance good and there is no feeling of depression.

FOR 13 HOURS yesterday there was no need of an oxygen tent for the Chief Executive. At times during the day he listened to soft, recorded music.

None of the outstanding heart specialists here or on call across the country is discounting the possibility of a relapse or even another attack. None will say, at this point, that the President is out of danger, "over the hump," or even that he is improving definitely and steadily.

But for five consecutive days, they say, Eisenhower has been reacting normally and "without complications" to a type of heart attack from which the large majority of victims eventually recovers.

THE WORDS "without complications" are the key, significant phrase. The absence of complications is encouraging to Eisenhower's physicians.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston heart expert who was flown in Sunday to examine the President, says that complications can come any time in the first two weeks after a heart seizure. That is the period in which an afflicted heart is discarding damaged muscle tissue and forming a scar.

"For the first two weeks," White says, "we keep our fingers crossed."

EISENHOWER still has nine days to go on that critical two weeks' period. His "moderate" coronary thrombosis—a blood clot in a heart artery—struck in the early morning hours last Saturday.

Some of the bulletins from the presidential bedside at Fitzsimons Army Hospital mention satisfactory "progress." Others speak only of a satisfactory "condition." Consistently they include the phrase "without complications."

HAGERTY disavowed any significance in the use of "progress" in all of Tuesday's bulletins and the first of four yesterday, then a shift to "condition." He said it merely represented an effort to vary the wording.

He told a news conference last night that "of course" the President's progress still was satisfactory.

In Boston, Dr. White said last night that the latest report on Eisenhower was "good" and the return of the President's blood pressure "toward its usual level" was a "particularly good sign."

BOYS' STATE GOVERNOR HONORED — Joseph Rubin (center), Governor of Empire Boys' State addressed representatives of County American Legion and Auxiliary posts at Kingston Post 150 Wednesday night. Legion, Auxiliary Hear Reports of State Officials

The Governor of Empire Boys' State and Assemblyman of Empire Girls' State, sponsored by the American Legion and Auxiliary, were honored guests at the regular monthly meeting of the Ulster County American Legion and Auxiliary at Kingston Post 150 Wednesday night.

Joseph Rubin of 29 Mecca terrace, Liberty, the governor and Karen Woolsey of Milton, the assemblyman, spoke at the meeting which was attended by approximately 150 members of the county Legion and Auxiliary.

YOUNG RUBIN, who was elected governor of Boys' State at Colgate University this summer by one vote, spoke on the importance of the ballot process, pointing out that each vote was important.

Of 936 potential votes, he said he received a majority of one, with about 30 or 35 failing to vote. If these 30 or 35 representatives had cast their ballots it might have changed the result he said. He called attention to the fact that impeachment of President Andrew Johnson failed by one vote.

Young Rubin, a senior at Liberty High School is president of the student council, Debating Club, National Honor Society and Youth Council and has maintained an average of 93 during his high school career. He also attended Boys' Nation at the University of Maryland this summer, representing Empire Boys' State as a senator.

It was reported that Rubin has been awarded a $1,600 scholarship at Syracuse University.

Rubin was introduced by Thomas Bohan, past deputy commander of the New York State American Legion and councillor at Boys' State and Boys' Nation. Miss Woolsey was introduced by Mrs. Pearl Smith of Marlborough, president of the County Auxiliary. Ernest Gardner, Ulster county commander presided.

Chaves, insisted Peron still was aboard a Paraguayan gunboat in Buenos Aires harbor.

served as batting practice pitcher for the Yanks in place of Jim Konstanty, who was injured in an automobile crash early this morning. Konstanty wasn't badly hurt but was detained long enough to make him miss the warmups.

JOE COLLINS, two-homer hero of the first game, got a warm greeting as he took his first swipes at Skowron's tosses.

Once again Mickey Mantle, the American League home run champ and top Yankee slugger, was on the sidelines because of a leg injury. Manager Casey Stengel named the same batting order that faced Don Newcombe yesterday with Irv Noren in Mantle's center field place and Elston Howard in left.

STENGEL SAID he would pitch Bob Turley (17-13), the fast-balling righthander acquired from Baltimore last winter, in tomorrow's third game at Ebbets Field.

Walter Alston, Brooklyn manager, gave his boys a 20-minute pep talk before they took the field with the same lineup as in the opener.

Alston said he expected to use Johnny Podres (10-10), a lefthander with a sizzling fast ball, in tomorrow's game. If he has to use Podres on relief in today's game, he will switch to Carl Erskine (11-8) for Friday.

President . . .

dications are that it won't be announced until next spring. Eisenhower has indicated as much himself at news conferences in Washington.

AT THE TEMPORARY White House here, there is little tendency to look beyond the immediate future and concentrate on giving Eisenhower every opportunity to get well again.

James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary, said that Eisenhower has suffered no pain since Tuesday, that he no longer is running a temperature, that his morale is high, appearance good and there is no feeling of depression.

FOR 13 HOURS yesterday there was no need of an oxygen tent for the Chief Executive. At times during the day he listened to soft, recorded music.

None of the outstanding heart specialists here or on call across the country is discounting the possibility of a relapse or even another attack. None will say, at this point, that the President is out of danger, "over the hump," or even that he is improving definitely and steadily.

But for five consecutive days, they say, Eisenhower has been reacting normally and "without complications" to a type of heart attack from which the large majority of victims eventually recovers.

THE WORDS "without complications" are the key, significant phrase. The absence of complications is encouraging to Eisenhower's physicians.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston heart expert who was flown in Sunday to examine the President, says that complications can come any time in the first two weeks after a heart seizure. That is the period in which an afflicted heart is discarding damaged muscle tissue and forming a scar.

"For the first two weeks," White says, "we keep our fingers crossed."

EISENHOWER still has nine days to go on that critical two weeks' period. His "moderate" coronary thrombosis—a blood clot in a heart artery—struck in the early morning hours last Saturday.

Some of the bulletins from the presidential bedside at Fitzsimons Army Hospital mention satisfactory "progress." Others speak only of a satisfactory "condition." Consistently they include the phrase "without complications."

HAGERTY disavowed any significance in the use of "progress" in all of Tuesday's bulletins and the first of four yesterday, then a shift to "condition." He said it merely represented an effort to vary the wording.

He told a news conference last night that "of course" the President's progress still was satisfactory.

In Boston, Dr. White said last night that the latest report on Eisenhower was "good" and the return of the President's blood pressure "toward its usual level" was a "particularly good sign."

BOYS' STATE GOVERNOR HONORED — Joseph Rubin (center), Governor of Empire Boys' State addressed representatives of County American Legion and Auxiliary posts at Kingston Post 150 Wednesday night. Legion, Auxiliary Hear Reports of State Officials

The Governor of Empire Boys' State and Assemblyman of Empire Girls' State, sponsored by the American Legion and Auxiliary, were honored guests at the regular monthly meeting of the Ulster County American Legion and Auxiliary at Kingston Post 150 Wednesday night.

Joseph Rubin of 29 Mecca terrace, Liberty, the governor and Karen Woolsey of Milton, the assemblyman, spoke at the meeting which was attended by approximately 150 members of the county Legion and Auxiliary.

YOUNG RUBIN, who was elected governor of Boys' State at Colgate University this summer by one vote, spoke on the importance of the ballot process, pointing out that each vote was important.

Of 936 potential votes, he said he received a majority of one, with about 30 or 35 failing to vote. If these 30 or 35 representatives had cast their ballots it might have changed the result he said. He called attention to the fact that impeachment of President Andrew Johnson failed by one vote.

Young Rubin, a senior at Liberty High School is president of the student council, Debating Club, National Honor Society and Youth Council and has maintained an average of 93 during his high school career. He also attended Boys' Nation at the University of Maryland this summer, representing Empire Boys' State as a senator.

It was reported that Rubin has been awarded a $1,600 scholarship at Syracuse University.

Rubin was introduced by Thomas Bohan, past deputy commander of the New York State American Legion and councillor at Boys' State and Boys' Nation. Miss Woolsey was introduced by Mrs. Pearl Smith of Marlborough, president of the County Auxiliary. Ernest Gardner, Ulster county commander presided.

Says Peron Goes to Spain

Buenos Aires, Sept. 29 (AP)—Reports spread in Buenos Aires today that Juan D. Peron had left for Spain, but the Spanish embassy said the Franco government had not granted him asylum. The embassy said it knew nothing of the reported departure of the deposed president. The Paraguayan ambassador, Juan R. Chaves, insisted Peron still was aboard a Paraguayan gunboat in Buenos Aires harbor.

Polio Cases Drop

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—Polio cases dropped by 18 per cent last week, the Public Health Service reported today. "Continuous weekly decreases are expected" until the disease reaches a low level later this year, the report added. The 1,606 cases reported by the states for the week ended Sept. 24 compared with a corrected figure of 1,949 for the preceding week and 2,343 in the corresponding 1954 week.

Perfect Day . . .

served as batting practice pitcher for the Yanks in place of Jim Konstanty, who was injured in an automobile crash early this morning. Konstanty wasn't badly hurt but was detained long enough to make him miss the warmups.

JOE COLLINS, two-homer hero of the first game, got a warm greeting as he took his first swipes at Skowron's tosses.

Once again Mickey Mantle, the American League home run champ and top Yankee slugger, was on the sidelines because of a leg injury. Manager Casey Stengel named the same batting order that faced Don Newcombe yesterday with Irv Noren in Mantle's center field place and Elston Howard in left.

STENGEL SAID he would pitch Bob Turley (17-13), the fast-balling righthander acquired from Baltimore last winter, in tomorrow's third game at Ebbets Field.

Walter Alston, Brooklyn manager, gave his boys a 20-minute pep talk before they took the field with the same lineup as in the opener.

Alston said he expected to use Johnny Podres (10-10), a lefthander with a sizzling fast ball, in tomorrow's game. If he has to use Podres on relief in today's game, he will switch to Carl Erskine (11-8) for Friday.

Denounced as 'Hoax'

Detroit, Sept. 29 (AP)—A report that Emmett Louis Till had been found alive in Detroit was denounced today as "a cruel hoax" by the mother of the 14-year-old Negro boy. Mrs. Mamie Bradley of Chicago, who spoke here last night protesting the acquittal in Mississippi of two men accused of slaying her son, was asked about the report from the Sumner, Miss., sheriff's office. There was no immediate detail on how the report originated.

Challenged by Russians

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—The American atomic industry was placed on notice today that its leadership in constructive uses of the atom was "seriously challenged" by the Russians' showing at the 72-nation Atoms-for-Peace conference in Geneva. Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) delivered the warning last night to the Atomic Industrial Forum, Inc. It was his first detailed appraisal of the Geneva meeting.

London, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Foreign Office said today it has ordered Ambassador Sir Humphrey Trevelyan to inform the Egyptian government of the "grave view" Britain takes of Egypt's announced intention to buy arms from behind the Iron Curtain. A spokesman said the British envoy was told to warn Prime Minister Gamal Abdel Nasser of the dangers of starting an arms race in the Middle East.

She Airs Troubles

Charleston, W. Va. (AP)—James S. Hall, airlines employe at Kanawha Airport, said a woman called to request reservations. "I found the cutest little snail in my garden," she told him "and I wanted to know if I could take it with me. It's very pretty colored like a leopard and it doesn't have any shell." "Yes ma'm," Hall replied, "I think you may take him aboard. Just put him in a bottle." "Oh, thank you very much," the woman said. "But there's something that bothers me. I think it's . . . pregnant. I'm afraid it might have little snails while in flight and I'm not traveling family plan."

Bear Trouble

Billings, Mont. (AP)—Forest Supervisor Frank C. Curtiss says he is going to invite a big, black bear along on the next Custer National Forest tour. Curtiss says he hight as well invite the bear because "he muscles in anyway." This year the bear sneaked into a tent and ripped a mattress to shreds. Last year the marauder gobbled up a mess of fresh fruit in the tour's camp.

Lightning Strikes Twice

Kennett, Mo. (AP)—Lightning, on a playful spree, caused little damage but a lot of confusion in this southeastern Missouri town. One bolt hit a tree, coursed across the wet grass, up a drain pipe and into and out of Mrs. A. W. Garrett's kitchen. Another bolt struck the radio at the fire department headquarters and smacked Marcus Williams, the driver, out of his chair. He arrived at the Garrett home still a little groggy. Neither bolt caused fire and neither Mrs. Garrett nor Williams was hurt.

Model Jail

Edmonton, Alta. (AP)—Alberta plans a model jail costing two million dollars a few miles northwest of Calgary. Atty. Gen. Lucien Maynard said hardened criminals and troublemakers would be segregated in the projected T-shaped prison—Alberta's third. Maynard made the announcement to legislators after they toured the Fort Saskatchewan jail, 20 miles northeast of Edmonton, the scene of a recent riot.

Ancient Refuge

Austin, Tex. (AP)—One of Austin's original old mansions was being torn down and workmen discovered a secret cellar to be used to hide from Indians. The house was built in 1857.

Kennett, Mo. (AP)—Lightning, on a playful spree, caused little damage but a lot of confusion in this southeastern Missouri town. One bolt hit a tree, coursed across the wet grass, up a drain pipe and into and out of Mrs. A. W. Garrett's kitchen. Another bolt struck the radio at the fire department headquarters and smacked Marcus Williams, the driver, out of his chair. He arrived at the Garrett home still a little groggy. Neither bolt caused fire and neither Mrs. Garrett nor Williams was hurt.

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW

(By The Associated Press)

Housewives will be pleased with what they find in the meat sections of the nation's food stores this weekend: Prices on many cuts will be down from a week ago and they will be unusually good buys on a couple of items.

The emphasis will be on pork. Wholesale prices on that meat came down quite a bit last week, and now the food store operators are passing these lower prices along to consumers.

LIONS OF PORK will be a particular favorite as a weekend special. They'll be down four cents a pound in some stores and even more in others. Pork chop prices are being cut nearly everywhere, with reductions averaging around four to six cents a pound from a week ago.

Other pork items mentioned as specials by a number of stores: Smoked picnics, fresh hams and pork shoulder roast.

Broiling and frying chickens are going to be prominently featured, too, and some markets will have unusually low prices. There'll also be specials on stewing chickens.

PRIME RIB PRICES will be about the same as a week ago, but sirloin steaks will be cheaper in a number of sections. Legs of lamb will be unchanged or a bit lower in price. There will be some good buys in lamb chops.

Egg prices will be up a couple of cents in some regions and down a bit in others. The same will be true of butter.

Potatoes, onions, eggplant and peppers rate as the very best buys in vegetables. Produce men comment that the small and medium size peppers offer the best value.

LETTUCE—Iceberg, Big Boston and Romaine—is back in the list of good buys. Others: escarole, spinach, sweet potatoes, beans, bunched and topped beets, cabbage and cauliflower. Corn is in lighter supply and good quality ears are somewhat higher. Cucumbers, squash and carrots are moderately priced.

Apples are an outstanding buy in fruits. Limes are cheap and prunes are reasonable. Canteloupe prices are about the same as a week ago while honeydews are higher, with a wide range in price.

Peaches are not too plentiful. Quite a bit of riper stock is coming to market and can be picked up at reasonable prices for immediate consumption.

Fruit specialists rate oranges, grapefruit and lemons as moderately priced.

Three Friends in Will

Philadelphia, Sept. 29 (AP)—A midcity policeman and two bellhops who were kind to an elderly woman will share equally in her million dollar estate if her last will and testament proves valid. Mrs. Anna M. Haerer, widow of Dr. F. J. Haerer, died July 29 after spending her last years at the downtown Bellevue Stratford Hotel. A will drawn up in April, 1944, and probated last month, left the bulk of her $1,000,268 estate to charity. Yesterday, however, an attorney for the three men filed an appeal from the probate stating that there was in their possession a will dated July 19, 1946 in which the physician's widow left the estate equally to her three friends. They are former Patrolman William T. Miller; Anthony D'Elia, bell captain at the Bellevue and William B. Dexter, veteran Bellevue bellhop now retired.

Two Die in Jet Crash

Tokyo, Sept. 29 (AP)—A marine jet fighter crashed today in the wooded outskirts of Yokohama, killing the pilot and a radar operator, Marine Air Group headquarters announced. Names were withheld.

Egg prices will be up a couple of cents in some regions and down a bit in others. The same will be true of butter.

Potatoes, onions, eggplant and peppers rate as the very best buys in vegetables. Produce men comment that the small and medium size peppers offer the best value.

LETTUCE—Iceberg, Big Boston and Romaine—is back in the list of good buys. Others: escarole, spinach, sweet potatoes, beans, bunched and topped beets, cabbage and cauliflower. Corn is in lighter supply and good quality ears are somewhat higher. Cucumbers, squash and carrots are moderately priced.

Apples are an outstanding buy in fruits. Limes are cheap and prunes are reasonable. Canteloupe prices are about the same as a week ago while honeydews are higher, with a wide range in price.

Peaches are not too plentiful. Quite a bit of riper stock is coming to market and can be picked up at reasonable prices for immediate consumption.

Fruit specialists rate oranges, grapefruit and lemons as moderately priced.

Three Friends in Will

Philadelphia, Sept. 29 (AP)—A midcity policeman and two bellhops who were kind to an elderly woman will share equally in her million dollar estate if her last will and testament proves valid. Mrs. Anna M. Haerer, widow of Dr. F. J. Haerer, died July 29 after spending her last years at the downtown Bellevue Stratford Hotel. A will drawn up in April, 1944, and probated last month, left the bulk of her $1,000,268 estate to charity. Yesterday, however, an attorney for the three men filed an appeal from the probate stating that there was in their possession a will dated July 19, 1946 in which the physician's widow left the estate equally to her three friends. They are former Patrolman William T. Miller; Anthony D'Elia, bell captain at the Bellevue and William B. Dexter, veteran Bellevue bellhop now retired.

Two Die in Jet Crash

Tokyo, Sept. 29 (AP)—A marine jet fighter crashed today in the wooded outskirts of Yokohama, killing the pilot and a radar operator, Marine Air Group headquarters announced. Names were withheld.

U. S. Traffic Toll Up

Chicago, Sept. 29 (AP)—Heavy summer vacation travel has boosted the nation's traffic death toll to 1,000 more than it was at the same time last year. The National Safety Council said today the death toll for eight months of 1955 was 23,470. Up to Sept. 1 last year the count was 22,430 or 5 per cent fewer. August deaths alone jumped 10 per cent, nearly equalling the 11 per cent hike recorded for July. The August total was 3,600 making it the sixth month in a row to show a higher toll than the corresponding month of last year.

Paltz Enrollment Over 1,000 Mark First in History

Enrollment has passed the 1,000 mark at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, for the first time since the college was founded, according to figures released today by President William J. Haggerty.

The previous highest enrollment figure was during the 1950-51 school year when 908 students were on the campus. President Haggerty pointed out that less than 12 years ago the college had an enrollment of only 345 students. By 1950 the figure had doubled to a total 779, and last year over 900 students were enrolled.

"WITH THIS GROWTH in numbers of students," President Haggerty said, "plans are being made to meet the demands of a rapidly growing college." Architects are now drawing plans for a new college dormitory to house 300 students, he explained, and other future plans involve the construction of a classroom and office building which will house the fine arts program and perhaps other departments, a new health and physical education building, and the construction of additional dormitories, a baseball diamond and other playing fields.

After a week of orientation for new students, preliminary counseling began Monday, Sept. 19, and registration was held Wednesday. Revised registration procedures made it possible to register all of the students in one day, and classes were started Thursday.

Real Program Foiled

Portland, Ore. (AP)—John W. Williams, giving his appliance store a coat of paint one evening, heard a voice in a grocery next door demand: "Let's have the money—and don't waste time. This is a stickup!" He figured his friend, Grocer Gaylord W. Shiveley, was watching television. Williams, a crime program fan, decided he'd take a break and go next door to watch, too. At the door he was accosted by a young man holding a handkerchief over his face, making off with the store's receipts. Realizing he had come face to face with the real thing, Williams jumped the man and with Shiveley's help subdued him. Leonard O'Neal Jr., 21, was charged with assault and robbery.

U. S .Traffic Toll Up

Chicago, Sept. 29 (AP)—Heavy summer vacation travel has boosted the nation's traffic death toll to 1,000 more than it was at the same time last year. The National Safety Council said today the death toll for eight months of 1955 was 23,470. Up to Sept. 1 last year the count was 22,430 or 5 per cent fewer. August deaths alone jumped 10 per cent, nearly equalling the 11 per cent hike recorded for July. The August total was 3,600 making it the sixth month in a row to show a higher toll than the corresponding month of last year.

Paltz Enrollment Over 1,000 Mark First in History

Enrollment has passed the 1,000 mark at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, for the first time since the college was founded, according to figures released today by President William J. Haggerty.

The previous highest enrollment figure was during the 1950-51 school year when 908 students were on the campus. President Haggerty pointed out that less than 12 years ago the college had an enrollment of only 345 students. By 1950 the figure had doubled to a total 779, and last year over 900 students were enrolled.

"WITH THIS GROWTH in numbers of students," President Haggerty said, "plans are being made to meet the demands of a rapidly growing college." Architects are now drawing plans for a new college dormitory to house 300 students, he explained, and other future plans involve the construction of a classroom and office building which will house the fine arts program and perhaps other departments, a new health and physical education building, and the construction of additional dormitories, a baseball diamond and other playing fields.

After a week of orientation for new students, preliminary counseling began Monday, Sept. 19, and registration was held Wednesday. Revised registration procedures made it possible to register all of the students in one day, and classes were started Thursday.

$10,128 Raised In Heart Fund Appeal in County

Ulster county contributed a total of $10,128.32 in the 1955 Heart Fund Appeal, it was announced today by Mrs. Vincent Connelly, chairman of the Ulster County Heart Chapter.

The returns exceeded the $7,638.86 raised last year, Mrs. Connelly pointed out, and the funds will be used in Ulster county as well as in the state and nation to carry forward the work of the volunteer movement to combat diseases of the heart.

Seventy per cent of the funds will be expended by the Ulster County Heart Chapter; five per cent will go to the New York Heart Assembly, the statewide organization with which the local chapter is affiliated; and 25 per cent to the American Heart Association. Half of the amount received by the AHA will be spent for research and the cause and cure of heart diseases.

OF THE 1955 total raised in Ulster county $1,000 was also sent for a special research project in chest diseases. The amount collected in Ulster county is part of a total of $651,878 that the Heart Fund Appeal produced in the area of the New York Heart Association and its affiliations covering most of New York state outside of New York city. These statewide results exceeded the goal of $625,000.

The statewide figure was announced for the first time yesterday as the New York Heart Assembly, on behalf of its 56 local affiliates, prepared to present the Heart and Torch Award to Lawrence D. Bell, president of the Bell Aircraft Corporation, for his service as honorary state chairman of the 1955 Heart Fund Appeal. The award was to be presented at the Bell Aircraft offices near Niagara Falls. S. James Matthews of Kingston was the general chairman of the Ulster County 1955 Heart Fund Campaign. A heart chairman also served in the 20 townships of the county.

Flies Fly

Mackinac Island, Mich. (AP)—The flies have flown Mackinac Island. Ten years ago, the tails of the horses which pull tourist carriages twitched constantly at the swarming pests. Chief of Police Ozrow I. Smith recalled that "the flies almost ate you up and you couldn't talk without getting a mouthful." Then the State Department went to work. A concocton of DDT and other chemicals was sprayed regularly in the business district and on the buggy trails. Most of the flies—and rats and other rodents, too—now are gone.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR COLONY TO HANDLE TAYLOR WINES was completed recently by J. V. Andretta, president of Colony Liquor Distributors Inc. (right) and Russell B. Douglas, vice president in charge of sales for the Taylor Wine Company, Inc.

Mr. Douglas, who made the announcement, said Colony would cover Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Sullivan and Ulster counties for Taylor Wines. The territory was formerly part of that served by Taylor's own metropolitan New York organization. Effective date for the change-over is October 1, 1955.

"I am happy at the opportunity to offer my customers a high-quality, fast-turnover line like Taylor's," Mr. Andretta said. Mr. Douglas noted that the new relationship rested on a common record of long and successful service to the public and trade, and expressed his gratification at having such an outstanding distributor as Colony as part of the Taylor organization.

Meyers of Kingston to Salvatore J. Aprea of 126 Green street it was announced today by John A. Cole, Inc., real estate, whose firm handled the sale.

LEASE OF the building by Kingston-Ulster Press, a weekly, expires at the end of this year it was reported.

Mr. Aprea plans to lease offices in the two-story old stone building, once used as an academy and later as a dwelling. The building was partially damaged by fire in 1777 when the British landed and put the city to the torch.

Mr. Cole said that the Kingston-Ulster Press would vacate the building when the lease expires.

A SPOKESMAN for the Kingston-Ulster Press told the Freeman that Orin Lehman of New York city, the publisher would move the weekly if necessary to another Kingston location. Mr. Lehman has "several places in mind," it was reported.

It was pointed out however, that the Kingston-Ulster Press would consider leasing a portion of the building if it was "fixed up." A spokesman said it needs a lot of work and repairs.

The old Kingston Daily Leader, one of the counties leading newspapers for many years moved into the building at Crown and John streets some 40 years ago, at which time the press room and storage space was added, all of brick construction.

Harriman Blames Sheriff for County Jail Break

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 29 (AP)—Gov. Harriman severely censured the St. Lawrence county sheriff today on the ground of what Harriman said was "negligence" leading to the jail break at Canton last April 27.

The governor made public a Correction Commission report that he said "leaves no doubt that the escape was made possible by gross carelessness in the administration of the jail."

ONE OF THE four prisoners who broke out of the county jail was shot to death by state troopers. The others were recaptured. One of the convicts and a state trooper were wounded.

Harriman said he would not take disciplinary action against Sheriff Henry G. Denner because of Denner's record of public service "extending over some 40 years without any previous charges of impropriety or malfeasance." He added:

"I cannot condone his actions, however, and I record a severe censure for his negligence and that of his subordinates."

THE FOUR who escaped were Ralph LaShombe, 29, of Potsdam; Frank (The Hook) Talarico, 44, of Utica; Patrick Brooks, 26, of Gabriels; and Leon Caskinette, 24, of Raymondville.

LaShombe and Talarico overpowered Deputy Sheriff Howard Jenkins, took two pistols from Denner's desk in the jail and fled with the other two prisoners. Talarico was killed and LaShombe was wounded by state police gunfire.

Wilson to Head Girl Scout Fund Drive for $3,500

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock has accepted the chairmanship of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Inc., county-wide financial drive of 1956, according to Francis J. O'Neil, county finance chairman. Announcement was made at a joint meeting of the campaign chairmen representing the nine neighborhoods within the Girl Scout Council, exclusive of the Kingston Community Chest area, and the county finance committee held at the Governor Clinton Hotel this week.

In his formal acceptance Assemblyman Wilson told the group, "I am proud to accept the chairmanship of your 1956 campaign. I have always been and I still am extremely interested in the Girl Scout movement especially since I have a Girl Scout of my own!" Jean, youthful member of the Wilson family is a full-fledged member of a Girl Scout troop at Woodstock. Jane, the younger, looks forward to the time when she will become a Brownie Scout.

ASSEMBLYMAN WILSON, who was elected to the Assembly in 1953 to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late John Wadlin, was supervisor of the Town of Woodstock and from 1949-53 he served as majority leader of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

He is a former president of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster county. Among other things, Assemblyman Wilson is a trustee of the Saugerties Savings Bank and a member of the advisory committee of the Woodstock Bank. He also is a director of the Woodstock Mutual Fire Insurance Association.

This year's goal for the Ulster county Council of Girl Scouts annual county-wide financial drive will be $3,500. This represents an increase over the goal of $2,500 which was set for last year's campaign. Action on establishing the goal was taken after group discussion of the basic needs of the nine communities, outside the Kingston Community Chest area, who will benefit from the campaign. The drive will provide funds for meeting the operating expenses of each community neighborhood and the Council-wide increase in salary and program due to the expansion of the Scouting movement throughout the entire county.

THE ORGANIZATIONAL plan for this year's drive was presented by Mr. O'Neill assisted by Mrs. Gordon Anderson, of Woodstock, member of the county finance committee. Unanimously accepted, the plan will get underway with the issuance of "appeal letters" from the County Girl Scout Headquarters, 292 Fair street, to potential 'initial gift' donors within the respective communities. The Girl Scout campaign within the county will coincide with the annual Red Feather Drive in the Kingston area. Monday night, Oct. 17, has been set as the opening night for resident canvassing throughout the county. Neighborhood and financial drive chairmen are urged to file complete financial returns with Mrs. Nelson Shultis, of Bearsville, county Girl Scout treasurer, by Nov. 7.

In conclusion, Mrs. Donovan F. Buehring, president, expressed appreciation, on behalf of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, to Assemblyman Wilson, newly appointed campaign director, and the community drive chairmen. "You are the key people in the forthcoming drive," she said. "With such fine leadership, I feel that we may be assured of success and that our friends within the county will 'give until it helps' to further a well-rounded, wholesome program in Scouting for our growing girls."

Mrs. John Lacey, of Kingston, county publicity chairman, will direct the county-wide publicity and announces the following neighborhood drive chairmen who will assist during the campaign:

Ellenville, Mrs. Gordon Ayer; Highland-Clintondale, Mrs. Nicholas Marone; Kerhonkson, Mrs. Fred Sherman; Marbletown, Mr. William Lyke; New Paltz, Mrs. Benjamin Rubin; Onteora, Mrs. Malcolm Rose; Wallkill, Mrs. Ira Wichner; Woodstock, Mrs. James Kinns and Mrs. Vernon Wilbur.

First Day . . .

tion on the days of registration and also on Election Day.

Also those voters who may be away from the county of Ulster on Election Day because of their business duties, or occupation require them to be elsewhere on Election Day may apply at their polling place on the days of registration for an application for an absentee ballot.

Voters may also mail or deliver to the Ulster County Board of Elections an absentee ballot up to and including Oct. 29, 1955, but only if they are registered.

A PERSON in military service may apply for a military ballot up to and including October 31, 1955. This may also include the spouse, parent or child of such military voter. An application for a military ballot shall constitute personal registration whenever such registration is required.

Any further information pertaining to absentee or military voting may be obtained from the Ulster County Board of Elections or by calling Kingston 1115. The office is open during the regular office hours and until the polls close on the days of registration.

U. S. Troops Given NATO Duty in Italy

The new arrivals are the first Americans combat troops to be stationed in Italy since October 1947 when the 88th Infantry division was deactivated as a combat unit. American soldiers based at Leghorn and Naples are from service units.

Crossing the Austrian-Italian border through historic Brenner Pass was a convoy of 214 officers and men under Lt. Col. William W. Hawke of Terryton, Tex., commander of the 1st Battalion of the 35th infantry regiment, which made a distinguished combat record in Italy during World War 2.

"The spectacle of a few men in your organization lured by their own lack of comprehension into a last stand against the very amendment that can do more for the motorist than any other single piece of legislation in the history of New York state is both ironic and saddening."

Brown last month had outlined this alternate procedure: Defeat of the amendment, immediate increase in the gasoline tax, a bond issue next year not in the form of an amendment, and an amendment in 1957 "earmarking" the fuel-tax revenue for highway use.

Johnson maintained that such a plan could not be implemented "in time to avoid chaos in our highway program." He said he could not find "the slightest support" for it in or out of government.

The superintendent asserted that defeat of the amendment "and the consequent uncertainty over funds" would mean that the entire post-election project letting would have to be postponed.

He said the association had cast itself in the role of "the enemy of highway construction" by its opposition. He urged the organization to reverse its stand.

The expenses of a victim of polio are undertaken by the chapter from the time the person is first afflicted and continues sometimes for many years.

Judge Kelly said the new portable chest respirators, recently developed come in six different sizes—for children and adults.

He pointed out that in one quite severe case the chapter is paying $46 a day for nurses alone—which gives some idea of expenses involved.

In 1954 the National Foundation asked for 75 million dollars, the highest goal it ever set. For this year it dropped its sights to 64 million.

The foundation predicts that polio cases this year will total 30,000 throughout the country and it expects a similar total in 1956.

"Statistics for the past decade indicate the urgent need and the value of increased manpower."

The FBI director added however that "the crime cancer gnawing at the very vitality of the nation cannot be and should not be the sole responsibility of the police officer." He said it is "both logical and necessary" for the general public to cooperate with law enforcement officers to preserve the well-being of society.

"Today th greatest handicaps to strong local policing are inadequate manpower for proper functioning and insufficient funds for suitable salaries, facilities and training.

"Statistics for the past decade indicate the urgent need and the value of increased manpower."

The FBI director added however that "the crime cancer gnawing at the very vitality of the nation cannot be and should not be the sole responsibility of the police officer." He said it is "both logical and necessary" for the general public to cooperate with law enforcement officers to preserve the well-being of society.

CHICKEN & DUCKS 9¢ LB.

Imagine buying a chicken or a duck for this small sum per pound today! Back in March, 1906 that was the prevailing price advertised in newspapers in Central New York. Today you pay 65¢ and more per pound.

In the early 1900's, too, the food budget needed careful watching. And one method of planning meals that were nutritious as well as thrifty was to serve a fresh-from-the-oven casserole of baked beans.

Grandma Brown's Home Baked Beans, today, are served every week by wise budgeteers who use these appetizing New York State Style beans as a worthwhile replacement for expensive meat dishes. Dad and the whole family enjoy their fine flavor.

Monkey Business

New Orleans (AP)—A businessman, long at odds with a competitor, turned up at the police station with this complaint: "It's the limit. You know the kind of things he's been doing all along. Well, it's gone too far now. He's gone and bought a monkey. He shaved the monkey's head to make it look like mine. And now he's dressing that monkey to make him look like me!" The police decided there was nothing they could do about such monkeyshines.

Aalto Is Honored With Scout Award

A special occasion was the presentation of the badge and certificate to the newest Eagle Scout in the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America at the monthly executive board meeting Tuesday night at the Gov. Clinton Hotel.

He is Scout Frederick Aalto, son of the President of the Council, Johan A. Aalto of Ashokan. Eagle Scout Aalto was presented to the executive board by Richard Gendreau, chairman of the Council Advancement Committee. The experiences through which he passed in his climb to Eagle were described by the Eagle Scout and then he answered questions from members of the Board. Leonard Herrick, vice president of the Council presented him with his Eagle certificates and the badge was presented by George V. Dennis, scout executive of the Council.

ANOTHER FEATURE of the meeting was the report on the Inter-National Jamboree held last summer made by Explorer Eagle Scout Robert Bull of Troop 72, Marlborough and the Rev. Marshall L. Smith the leader representing the council. The Jamboree story was given by Explorer Bull and the Rev. Mr. Smith showed and commented on slides made while attending the Jamboree.

During the operating committee reports Leonard Herrick, who is also leadership training chairman of the Council, announced the fall training schedule which will start with a basic scout leaders training course Thursday night, Oct. 6, at the Dutch Arms chapel in Saugerties; a basic cub leaders training course will also be conducted starting Wednesday night, Oct. 12 at Episcopal Church hall in Kingston and a junior leaders conference to be held all day Saturday, Oct. 29 at the George Washington School in Kingston. He also announced that a basic explorer leaders training course will be presented this fall and a Den Chief's Conference at a later date.

The Council Organization and Extension chairman, Robert MacKinnon, reported that as of the end of August the membership showed a gain of nine Units and 208 boys over the same time last year. He announced that seven new units are now in the process of organization and will be registered this fall. Frank Bourke, Council Camp Committee chairman, announced that there would be work parties at Camp Tri-Mount October 8 and 22 to ready camp for the weekend winter camping. He urged all Scouters and interested parties to come and bring their own tools on both dates. He announced that a complete and full report on the 1955 summer camp season would be given at the next board meeting in October.

SCOUT EXECUTIVE George V. Dennis reported on the 10th National Training Conference held at the University of Michigan the first week this month. Both he and Field Executive Francis W. Teel attended. He urged all board members to participate in the fall district activity in their own district. Five districts are holding camporees, one district is conducting a Court of Recognitions. It was announced that all board members are expected to attend the Kingston Community Service night to be held Wednesday, Oct. 5 at Kingston High School Auditorium at which time presentations by the agencies of the Community Chest will be made. It was announced that the next board meeting will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 25, at which time the boys and leaders from the Council who participated in the National Scout ranch, Philmont, this summer will be on hand to tell of their experiences.

Don't Worry Mummy

Martinsville, Va. (AP) — Billy Goins, aged 5, hurt his foot on a nail. But Billy didn't cry. He knew his mother would be worried. He calmly walked up to his mother, put his arm around her waist and said: "Don't worry mummy, everything is going to be all right." Mrs. Marvin Goins isn't worried about Billy—he is all right.

Stands by CSC

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.) said today he has complete confidence in Civil Service Commission (CSC) figures on the number of federal employes fired as security risks. He struck back in an interview against the charge of Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-S.C.) that CSC Chairman Philip Young's figures embraced many employes who would have been fired on suitability grounds anyhow without any security program. Johnston said testimony showed that.

Stock Price Shift Spotlights Institutional Investors' Role

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—Sharp breaks and brisk rallies in stock prices since President Eisenhower's illness swing the spotlight again on the role of the institutional buyer and seller of stocks.

Does he steady the market? Or does he have a part in making price swings more violent?

THE VOLUME of shares the institutional investors buy or sell daily has spurted 60 per cent in the last three years, the New York Stock Exchange reports today. And 39 per cent of institutional trading volume is in blocks of 1,000 or more shares.

Institutional investors include: Pension funds, life, fire and casualty insurance companies, mutual savings banks, mutual funds, personal trusts, estates, guardianships, investment clubs, educational institutions, religious foundations and profit sharing plans.

Traders watching this week's nervous market have been asking: What are the institutions doing? These have many of the largest holdings of stocks. And when they enter the market it's news.

A Senate subcommittee is eyeing the general role of the institutional investor in the stock market. It is asking if the persistent and voracious demand for stocks by the growing investment funds has exerted an inflationary pressure on stock prices during the bull market.

THE SENATORS wonder if by buying so many stocks and putting them in bank boxes, the institutions have made the market thin—and therefore subject to wide price swings because fewer stocks are left for others to trade in.

Some senators have asked it, in time, institutional holdings will grow so large that control of corporations will pass out of individual hands.

The institutions deny or minimize all of these contentions. They point out that because they neither rush in rashly to buy nor panic easily and sell, they are a stabilizing influence on the market.

"THE STOCK EXCHANGE is usually regarded as a market place primarily for individual members of the public" notes its president, Keith Funston. He adds that this is largely still true. But he says a study by the exchange spells out the growing importance of institutional investors in the market.

The total number of shares bought and sold on the two days chosen for the last survey—June 8 and 15 of this year—was 13,580,900. Detailed reports were received on 12,083,000 of these, and 1,054,000 were bought or sold by institutions, excluding trading by commercial banks and trust companies.

IN TWO DAYS selected in September, 1952, institutional trading accounted for considerably less—730,600 shares.

The trend, however, isn't general among the types of institutions. Life insurance companies, for example, traded in 17,600 shares in the two 1952 days, rising to 56,100 shares in the two days last June—a striking gain. Mutual funds, on the other hand, traded in 223,400 shares in the earlier period, dropping to 194,300 in the latest period.

Funston notes that despite the increased interest of the life insurance companies in corporate securities, two thirds of all institutional share volume is for the portfolios of personal trust funds, mutual funds, estates, pension funds, closed-end investment companies and investment clubs.

Trusts and estates are more important as sellers than as buyers. Pension funds account for a much larger percentage of total purchases than they do of sales.

State DAR Meets

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—The New York stae organization of the Daughters of the American Revolution, opening its three-day annual conference yesterday, heard a keynote address by George S. Montgomery Jr., New York lawyer and author. Montgomery asked whether this country could "continue to muster our youth under the American flag and then abandon them to the rule of the United Nations directed by a staff including members of the enemy."

Vote for 17 Cents

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—Members of the CIO Transport Workers Union (TWU) employed by the New York City Transit Authority have voted 14,647 to 339 to accept the wage increase of 17 cents an hour recently negotiated by the union and the authority. Announcement of the balloting results was made yesterday by the union.

State Parks Is Topic at Rotary

Paul Winslow, who has been connected with the Taconic State Park Commission since 1928, explained the functions, powers and duties of the division of parks as they relate to parks and parkways, lands, grounds, structures and buildings of scenic, historic and scientific interest at the Rotary Club luncheon-meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The division of parks, he said, includes the state council of parks and the nine regional state park commissions. The council acts as a central advisory agency for all parks and parkways and formulates and recommends plans for the management, improvement and extension of parks. It is empowered to recommend construction of new state and county highways to bring about better access to park areas.

The Taconic State Park Commission has control of Taconic State Park located in Dutchess and Columbia counties, the New York state area in the Tri-State Park, the Clarence Fahnstock Memorial Park in Putnam county, Lake Taghkanic State Park in Columbia county, Norris State Park, Ogden Mills Memorial Park and James Baird State Park all in Dutchess county and other areas in Westchester county.

The Taconic State Park, he said, was 80 percent self supporting and the goal of the commission was 100 per cent.

Condition Worsens

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 29 (AP)—The condition of 15-year-old David Vincent, who was shot by a dairy farmer during an alleged holdup attempt, turned critical today at Rochester General Hospital. The youth, an escapee from the State Agricultural and Industrial School at Industry, was shot in the left shoulder by Paul Czapranski of Scottsville yesterday when he tried to steal an automobile at gun point, the Monroe county sheriff's office said.

New Rules Will Govern Supreme Court on Monday

When the October trial term of Supreme Court is convened Monday, Oct. 3, at 11 a. m., with Justice William Deckleman of Monticello presiding, new rules recently established by the Appellate Division will go into effect.

Jurors will report as usual at 11 a. m. but the calendar call which has in the past taken place at the opening of the afternoon will be at 12 o'clock noon on the opening day of court. There will be no advance calendar call as has been the prior rule. A day calendar will be made up at the noon calendar call.

The calendar for the October term is heavier than usual, over 200 cases having been added to the calendar.

Another change in the rules is in regard to the "strike-off" regulation. There will be a strike-off call at every term of Supreme Court instead of twice a year, at the second and fourth term as in the past.

Leaves for Prague

Geneva, Sept. 29 (AP)—U. Alexis Johnson, American ambassador to Czechoslovakia who has been negotiating here for the past two months with a Communist Chinese envoy, left with his wife by automobile for Prague today. An American spokesman said Johnson was returning briefly to Prague to deal with "routine embassy business." He is expected back in Geneva for his next meeting with Red Chinese ambassador Wang Pingnan, scheduled Oct. 5.

Ulster Hose Responds

Ulster Hose sent its pumper and its "brush rabbit" to the Stuntenburg residence on Brabrant road just across the Route 28 viaduct at 7:58 p. m. Wednesday when a gas heater caught fire. Asssitant Chief Harry Lowe said Mrs. Stuntenburg lit the heater and that flames leaped and ignited a plastic knob on the valve. The blaze was extinguished by a neighbor who threw a cloth over it. Incidentally, the "brush rabbit" is a half-ton emergency truck used by the station.

Search for Student

Alfred, N. Y., Sept. 29 (AP)—State police continued a "routine search" today for an exmarine combat veteran who has been missing six days from the Alfred State Agricultural and Technical Institute. More than 250 students joined troopers yesterday in a search through nearby woodlands and meadows for 24-year-old Bernard Barnett, who authorities fear may be suffering from amnesia.

Breaks Jail

Lake George, N. Y., Sept. 29 (AP)—A man awaiting grand jury action on an auto-theft charge escaped from the Warren county jail last night by removing bricks from the wall of his second-floor cell. Police said Francis Donald Larich, 23, of Granville, used a blanket to lower himself part way to the ground, then jumped the rest of the way. He had removed about 20 bricks from the wall. Local and state police set up road barricades. Larich is accused of stealing a car in Glens Falls last June.

Stock Price Shift Spotlights Institutional Investors' Role

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—Sharp breaks and brisk rallies in stock prices since President Eisenhower's illness swing the spotlight again on the role of the institutional buyer and seller of stocks.

Does he steady the market? Or does he have a part in making price swings more violent?

THE VOLUME of shares the institutional investors buy or sell daily has spurted 60 per cent in the last three years, the New York Stock Exchange reports today. And 39 per cent of institutional trading volume is in blocks of 1,000 or more shares.

Institutional investors include: Pension funds, life, fire and casualty insurance companies, mutual savings banks, mutual funds, personal trusts, estates, guardianships, investment clubs, educational institutions, religious foundations and profit sharing plans.

Traders watching this week's nervous market have been asking: What are the institutions doing? These have many of the largest holdings of stocks. And when they enter the market it's news.

A Senate subcommittee is eyeing the general role of the institutional investor in the stock market. It is asking if the persistent and voracious demand for stocks by the growing investment funds has exerted an inflationary pressure on stock prices during the bull market.

THE SENATORS wonder if by buying so many stocks and putting them in bank boxes, the institutions have made the market thin—and therefore subject to wide price swings because fewer stocks are left for others to trade in.

Some senators have asked it, in time, institutional holdings will grow so large that control of corporations will pass out of individual hands.

The institutions deny or minimize all of these contentions. They point out that because they neither rush in rashly to buy nor panic easily and sell, they are a stabilizing influence on the market.

"THE STOCK EXCHANGE is usually regarded as a market place primarily for individual members of the public" notes its president, Keith Funston. He adds that this is largely still true. But he says a study by the exchange spells out the growing importance of institutional investors in the market.

The total number of shares bought and sold on the two days chosen for the last survey—June 8 and 15 of this year—was 13,580,900. Detailed reports were received on 12,083,000 of these, and 1,054,000 were bought or sold by institutions, excluding trading by commercial banks and trust companies.

IN TWO DAYS selected in September, 1952, institutional trading accounted for considerably less—730,600 shares.

The trend, however, isn't general among the types of institutions. Life insurance companies, for example, traded in 17,600 shares in the two 1952 days, rising to 56,100 shares in the two days last June—a striking gain. Mutual funds, on the other hand, traded in 223,400 shares in the earlier period, dropping to 194,300 in the latest period.

Funston notes that despite the increased interest of the life insurance companies in corporate securities, two thirds of all institutional share volume is for the portfolios of personal trust funds, mutual funds, estates, pension funds, closed-end investment companies and investment clubs.

Trusts and estates are more important as sellers than as buyers. Pension funds account for a much larger percentage of total purchases than they do of sales.

State DAR Meets

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—The New York stae organization of the Daughters of the American Revolution, opening its three-day annual conference yesterday, heard a keynote address by George S. Montgomery Jr., New York lawyer and author. Montgomery asked whether this country could "continue to muster our youth under the American flag and then abandon them to the rule of the United Nations directed by a staff including members of the enemy."

Vote for 17 Cents

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—Members of the CIO Transport Workers Union (TWU) employed by the New York City Transit Authority have voted 14,647 to 339 to accept the wage increase of 17 cents an hour recently negotiated by the union and the authority. Announcement of the balloting results was made yesterday by the union.

State Parks Is Topic at Rotary

Paul Winslow, who has been connected with the Taconic State Park Commission since 1928, explained the functions, powers and duties of the division of parks as they relate to parks and parkways, lands, grounds, structures and buildings of scenic, historic and scientific interest at the Rotary Club luncheon-meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The division of parks, he said, includes the state council of parks and the nine regional state park commissions. The council acts as a central advisory agency for all parks and parkways and formulates and recommends plans for the management, improvement and extension of parks. It is empowered to recommend construction of new state and county highways to bring about better access to park areas.

The Taconic State Park Commission has control of Taconic State Park located in Dutchess and Columbia counties, the New York state area in the Tri-State Park, the Clarence Fahnstock Memorial Park in Putnam county, Lake Taghkanic State Park in Columbia county, Norris State Park, Ogden Mills Memorial Park and James Baird State Park all in Dutchess county and other areas in Westchester county.

The Taconic State Park, he said, was 80 percent self supporting and the goal of the commission was 100 per cent.

Condition Worsens

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 29 (AP)—The condition of 15-year-old David Vincent, who was shot by a dairy farmer during an alleged holdup attempt, turned critical today at Rochester General Hospital. The youth, an escapee from the State Agricultural and Industrial School at Industry, was shot in the left shoulder by Paul Czapranski of Scottsville yesterday when he tried to steal an automobile at gun point, the Monroe county sheriff's office said.

New Rules Will Govern Supreme Court on Monday

When the October trial term of Supreme Court is convened Monday, Oct. 3, at 11 a. m., with Justice William Deckleman of Monticello presiding, new rules recently established by the Appellate Division will go into effect.

Jurors will report as usual at 11 a. m. but the calendar call which has in the past taken place at the opening of the afternoon will be at 12 o'clock noon on the opening day of court. There will be no advance calendar call as has been the prior rule. A day calendar will be made up at the noon calendar call.

The calendar for the October term is heavier than usual, over 200 cases having been added to the calendar.

Another change in the rules is in regard to the "strike-off" regulation. There will be a strike-off call at every term of Supreme Court instead of twice a year, at the second and fourth term as in the past.

After South had opened the bidding with one spade North wanted to be in four spades as a final contract. If West had passed, North would have jumped to four spades to show that he had considerable distributional strength but not too much in high cards.

The situation was altered, however, when West overcalled with two diamonds. It was now too risky to jump to four spades. The opponents, who were not vulnerable, might be able to carry on to five diamonds as a sacrifice. Or they might sacrifice at five hearts instead. The chances were, from North's point of view, that either sacrifice would give North-South a meager plus score.

To prevent the opponents from sacrificing, North simply passed. The idea was to allow the enemy to push him into four spades.

This would give them the idea that he had bid four spades reluctantly, and they would probably be willing to try to beat four spades rather than sacrifice against it.

Such a course of action takes nerve and the ability to appear unconcerned. North not only passed the first time but even managed to bid only three spades at the second turn. He had to hope that this would not be passed out.

As North expected, an opponent carried on to four hearts. This gave North the chance to bid four spades. Now his course of bidding made it seem very likely that he was taking a chance at four spades, so the opponents cheerfully passed and let South struggle with his contract.

It wasn't much of a struggle. South lost only two diamonds and a club, easily making his game contract. If the opponents had bid up to five hearts they could have been set only one trick, and North-South would have collected only 100 points for their trouble.

Adirondack Dude Ranch Serves Norway Kippers

NORWEGIAN KIPPER and apple salad excites the appetite at a dude ranch in the Adirondacks.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Kipper-apple salad is a Friday special at a dude ranch on Lake Forest in the Adirondack mountains. Mabel and Bill Von Witzleben, who own the ranch, tell us that guests play hard and eat big and always want something different.

Mabel, who supervises the kitchen, reports Norway kippers and sardines always go over big. Here are her recipes.

Kipper-Apple Salad
(Yield: 4 generous servings)

Two (3¼-ounce) cans Norway kippers, 6 apples, pared and sliced; 1 Bermuda onion, thinly sliced; capers, chopped chives, ½ pint thick sour cream, whipped; salt and pepper, lettuce leaves.

Arrange in lettuce-lined salad bowl. Alternate layers of sliced apple, Norway kipper fillets and thin slices of Bermuda onion. Season each layer with salt and pepper and sprinkle layers with capers and chopped chives.

Norway Sardine-Chili Snack
(Yield: 9 generous snack size canapes)

Three slices of toast, trimmed; 1 (3¾-ounce) can Norway sardines, 4 tablespoons chili sauce, Parmesan cheese, grated; salt and pepper.

Trim and cut each slice of toast into three oblong finger shaped pieces. Drain the oil from the sardines and brush toast with it. Spread each toast finger with a generous amount of chili sauce and top with two whole Norway sardines.

Sprinkle over grated cheese and broil until lightly browned.

NOTE: Triple ingredients for 27 party appetizers.

The trouble with so many motorists is they never seem to know what they're driving at.

Knowland Opposes Sale

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) opposed today proposals of some other senators that this country sell some of its bulging farm surpluses to Soviet Russia or other Communist nations. Such action, he told newsmen, "would strengthen their economic and military organizations. A lot of free people and nations in the world could use our farm surpluses." In a speech last night before a University of North Carolina forum at Chapel Hill, Knowland rejected the theory that smiles and words of Soviet spokesmen in recent months indicate an easing of world tensions.

Fleet Ends Mission

Ottawa, Sept. 29 (AP)—A three-month mission through ice-clogged seas well inside the Arctic Circle has been completed successfully by a fleet of more than 120 ships. The ships moved in 548,000 tons of cargo for construction of the DEW (distant early warning) radar line stretching for 3,000 miles along the northern mainland rim of the continent. Some ships were damaged in the fight against the ice but none was lost.

Kipper-apple salad is a Friday special at a dude ranch on Lake Forest in the Adirondack mountains. Mabel and Bill Von Witzleben, who own the ranch, tell us that guests play hard and eat big and always want something different.

Kipper-Apple Salad
(Yield: 4 generous servings)

Two (3¼-ounce) cans Norway kippers, 6 apples, pared and sliced; 1 Bermuda onion, thinly sliced; capers, chopped chives, ½ pint thick sour cream, whipped; salt and pepper, lettuce leaves.

Arrange in lettuce-lined salad bowl. Alternate layers of sliced apple, Norway kipper fillets and thin slices of Bermuda onion. Season each layer with salt and pepper and sprinkle layers with capers and chopped chives.

Norway Sardine-Chili Snack
(Yield: 9 generous snack size canapes)

Three slices of toast, trimmed; 1 (3¾-ounce) can Norway sardines, 4 tablespoons chili sauce, Parmesan cheese, grated; salt and pepper.

Trim and cut each slice of toast into three oblong finger shaped pieces. Drain the oil from the sardines and brush toast with it. Spread each toast finger with a generous amount of chili sauce and top with two whole Norway sardines.

Sprinkle over grated cheese and broil until lightly browned.

NOTE: Triple ingredients for 27 party appetizers.

Knowland Opposes Sale

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) opposed today proposals of some other senators that this country sell some of its bulging farm surpluses to Soviet Russia or other Communist nations. Such action, he told newsmen, "would strengthen their economic and military organizations. A lot of free people and nations in the world could use our farm surpluses." In a speech last night before a University of North Carolina forum at Chapel Hill, Knowland rejected the theory that smiles and words of Soviet spokesmen in recent months indicate an easing of world tensions.

Fleet Ends Mission

Ottawa, Sept. 29 (AP)—A three-month mission through ice-clogged seas well inside the Arctic Circle has been completed successfully by a fleet of more than 120 ships. The ships moved in 548,000 tons of cargo for construction of the DEW (distant early warning) radar line stretching for 3,000 miles along the northern mainland rim of the continent. Some ships were damaged in the fight against the ice but none was lost.

Clarke Is Named Newburgh Editor

Newburgh, N. Y., Sept. 29 (AP)—Douglas V. Clarke, a newspaperman who once went to jail rather than reveal a source of information, today was named managing editor of the Newburgh News and affiliated Beacon News.

He succeeds Charles A. S. Freeman, who is retiring this week.

Clarke, with the two papers more than 20 years, has been news editor since 1944.

IN 1948 he and a reporter attracted national attention by accepting jail sentences rather than disclose sources of information they received in connection with a gambling expose.

They served five days of a 10-day sentence before a Supreme Court justice ruled that they had been held improperly and ordered their $100 fines remitted.

Clarke's promotion to managing editor was announced by Harry Cohen, general manager of the two papers.

The U. S. $10,000 bill has a portrait of Salmon P. Chase, secretary of the treasury under Lincoln on it.

Moving Belt

Warwick, Va. (AP)—Mrs. Sadie Martin went into a bedroom to wake her sister. She saw a belt on the floor. When she reached to pick it up it coiled up. The two women killed the snake—a non-poisonous variety.

RECENTLY INSTALLED as religious leader of Congregation Ahavath Israel was Rabbi Jacob I. Rubenstein of New York city. He replaces Rabbi David Kohn. Rabbi Rubenstein attended Peter Stuyvesant High School in the Bronx and majored in psychology and sociology at City College of New York, on a state scholarship. He received his bachelor's degree in 1949 and then entered the rabbinical department of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America where he majored in Bible. (Firestone photo) had threatened to kill him. A week later Bendicto petitioned for her release.

Mother Says

Her story of motherly love and an irresistable maternal instinct was denounced yesterday by her own mother, who said Barbara Jean had abandoned her only natural child—a daughter—10 years ago.

District Attorney Thomas C. Lynch scorned Mrs. Benedicto's story.

She said remorse and sympathy for Robert's mother, Mrs. Hanna Marcus, 29, who was desperately ill, prompted the return of the child.

LYNCH AND HIS chief deputy, Norman Elkington, said they would seek an indictment for kidnaping when the county grand jury meets Monday night and would prosecute vigorously.

The only reason Mrs. Benedicto returned the child, they declared, was because she was convinced that her capture was imminent.

After her arrest, Mrs. Benedicto said the kidnapping developed from a series of lies she had told her husband, Marcus Benedicto, leading him to believe she had borne a child in a Southern California Hospital late in August.

SHE TOLD HIM the child was ill and she had to leave it in the south, but he insisted so strongly she had to bring home a baby or confess her hoax, she said.

"I had to have a baby. I had to have a baby," she said over and over.

Benedicto, who formerly published a Filipino newspaper in Stockton, said her hoax about the coming motherhood had started last October and that he had told friends of the expected child.

THE CHILD she finally brought home was called Marcus Merrill Benedicto, was Robert Marcus, stolen from his hospital crib.

Robert Marcus was pronounced in excellent health when examined in a Stockton hospital yesterday. He then was taken to Mt. Zion for overnight rest and another checkup.

Dr. Marcus said he entertained no antagonistic feeling toward Mrs. Benedicto.

"She is purely an abstraction to me," he said. "I do feel grateful that she took such wonderful care of the baby."

Earl Soper Urges Program Progress in School 6 P-TA Talk

Superintendent of Schools Earl Soper urged parent groups to keep themselves busy and with some purpose to augment the school program in a talk Wednesday night before the combined meeting of the P-TA groups of Schools No. 6 and 8 at the former school.

He said "these groups should also be alert and should "light little bonfires of thought in order to keep their program reaching out to greater progress."

Prior to the speaker's program the following officers were elected:

Charles M. Rinschler, president; Henry Barten, vice-president; Mrs. Robert Southard, secretary and Mrs. Harry Flowers, treasurer. President Rinschler appointed Mrs. E. De Groff as chairman of the projects committee for the year.

Superintendent Soper, during his interesting talk, explained that as superintendent he did not make the policies of the school board but that P-TA groups could be of great assistance in helping a board to shape its policies.

Talking on the subject of reading difficulties, Superintendent Soper remarked "reading, as an educational problem, is perhaps the greatest problem in our schools today." He then outlined the characteristics of this reading problem and the tremendous effort that is being made to overcome the same.

William Reardon, principal of Schools 6 and 8 also addressed the parents on the subject of current nationwide interest in modern educational methods.

In order for parents today to get the proper perspective on the job being done today, Mr. Reardon read some facts and figures on school board reports for the years 1908 and 1909. Surprisingly enough these indicated that one school system with an enrollment of 1620 boys in elementary schools, their ages ranged from 5 to 18 years of age. Of the 149 boys in this group at the age of 14, these 14 year old boys could be found in every grade from the first to the eighth. Mr. Reardon pointed out that conditions today have improved.

Parent-Teachers Association Sets Plans for Fall Activities and Projects

At the preliminary P-TA meeting at the George Washington School, Keron O'Neil, chairman, announced that the first program of the season will be Father's Night, Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 7:45 p. m. Get-acquainted games will be led by John Pope.

A feature of the evening will be the introduction of two representatives from the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, Mrs. Asa J. Call, ex-district director and Mrs. Harry O'Brien, Ulster county assistant director.

Topics to be discussed throughout the year will include curriculum, reading difficulty and family relations.

The executive committee is composed of three teachers, Mrs. Donovan Buehring, Mrs. John Dunn, Mrs. A. C. Roosa, and two parents, Charles G. Ellis and Keron O'Neil. Officers are Mrs. Raymond Gilkey, president, Mrs. Walter Donnaruma, vice-president, Mrs. Thomas Maines, secretary and Mrs. William Darling, treasurer.

Committee chairmen appointed are Mrs. Austin Boyd, membership; Mrs. William Oskay, hospitality; Mrs. David Byrne, publicity and Mrs. Joseph Falvey, Mrs. Reuben Leventhal, and Mrs. Max Oppenheimer, book fair.

FLOWERS FOR THE HOSTESS

"I was invited to dinner at a friend's house and I took my hostess a bunch of red roses. Several weeks later I invited this same woman to dinner at my house, and she brought nothing. Please do not misunderstand me, Mrs. Post, I was not looking for any gift, but want to know what is the proper procedure. A friend of mine told me that when I took the roses I had discharged my obligation. I do not feel this way, as I invariably take something to my hostess even though I later invite her to my house for dinner. I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter."

There is absolutely no objection to your taking flowers if you care to, but this is not expected by any hostess ever—and not even customary.

Gristle

Dear Mrs. Post: I always find it embarrassing when dining with others; and I happen to get a piece of tough meat or gristle in my mouth that I cannot swallow. To see someone take food out of his (or her) mouth is nauseating but sometimes this is absolutely necessary. What is the best and most inconspicuous way to do this?

Answer: First of all you make the food as dry as you can in your mouth and then you take it between your thumb and other four fingers pressed together forming a screen and lay it down on the plate. This, of course, should be done as quickly as possible without drawing attention to it.

Hat and Gloves

Dear Mrs. Post: My cousin and I have had a disagreement on the subject of wearing gloves which we would like to have you settle for us. It has always been my belief that gloves should not be worn when one goes without a hat. My cousin thinks it is in perfectly good taste to wear gloves and no hat. Who is right?

Answer: In the evening it is always correct to go without a hat and with gloves. In the afternoon, you always wear a hat with gloves, unless you are receiving.

Are you planning a buffet dinner? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but leaflet E-29, "Buffet Dinners, Lunches, and Suppers," includes the details. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Earl Soper Urges Program Progress in School 6 P-TA Talk

Superintendent of Schools Earl Soper urged parent groups to keep themselves busy and with some purpose to augment the school program in a talk Wednesday night before the combined meeting of the P-TA groups of Schools No. 6 and 8 at the former school.

He said "these groups should also be alert and should "light little bonfires of thought in order to keep their program reaching out to greater progress."

Prior to the speaker's program the following officers were elected:

Charles M. Rinschler, president; Henry Barten, vice-president; Mrs. Robert Southard, secretary and Mrs. Harry Flowers, treasurer. President Rinschler appointed Mrs. E. De Groff as chairman of the projects committee for the year.

Superintendent Soper, during his interesting talk, explained that as superintendent he did not make the policies of the school board but that P-TA groups could be of great assistance in helping a board to shape its policies.

Talking on the subject of reading difficulties, Superintendent Soper remarked "reading, as an educational problem, is perhaps the greatest problem in our schools today." He then outlined the characteristics of this reading problem and the tremendous effort that is being made to overcome the same.

William Reardon, principal of Schools 6 and 8 also addressed the parents on the subject of current nationwide interest in modern educational methods.

In order for parents today to get the proper perspective on the job being done today, Mr. Reardon read some facts and figures on school board reports for the years 1908 and 1909. Surprisingly enough these indicated that one school system with an enrollment of 1620 boys in elementary schools, their ages ranged from 5 to 18 years of age. Of the 149 boys in this group at the age of 14, these 14 year old boys could be found in every grade from the first to the eighth. Mr. Reardon pointed out that conditions today have improved.

Parent-Teachers Association Sets Plans for Fall Activities and Projects

At the preliminary P-TA meeting at the George Washington School, Keron O'Neil, chairman, announced that the first program of the season will be Father's Night, Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 7:45 p. m. Get-acquainted games will be led by John Pope.

A feature of the evening will be the introduction of two representatives from the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, Mrs. Asa J. Call, ex-district director and Mrs. Harry O'Brien, Ulster county assistant director.

Topics to be discussed throughout the year will include curriculum, reading difficulty and family relations.

The executive committee is composed of three teachers, Mrs. Donovan Buehring, Mrs. John Dunn, Mrs. A. C. Roosa, and two parents, Charles G. Ellis and Keron O'Neil. Officers are Mrs. Raymond Gilkey, president, Mrs. Walter Donnaruma, vice-president, Mrs. Thomas Maines, secretary and Mrs. William Darling, treasurer.

Committee chairmen appointed are Mrs. Austin Boyd, membership; Mrs. William Oskay, hospitality; Mrs. David Byrne, publicity and Mrs. Joseph Falvey, Mrs. Reuben Leventhal, and Mrs. Max Oppenheimer, book fair.

LETTUCE

Oddly enough our popular salad ingredient, lettuce, is named after milk in Latin. When the Romans first saw this vegetable, they thought it was a plant for producing milk because a white substance ran out of the stalk. They brought it to Rome to supply milk, but found that the "milk" was only lettuce juice. Later lettuce was used for salads.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Contract Signed For Construction At St. Gregory's

Woodstock, Sept. 29—The Rev. Herald C. Swezy, vicar of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, has announced the signing of a contract Sept. 19, for the building of the new church with Woodstock builder Karl Schroeder. The contract was negotiated on a fixed fee basis and building operations will begin this week, weather permitting.

According to the designer, William H. van Benschoten, A.I.A., achitect for the Diocese of New York, the church will have a seating capacity of 120 and will have a character interest appropriate to this artistic community. The new building will be located on Route 212, a short distance from the present corncrib chapel. The new site of approximately four acres was given to the Diocese by Miss Alice Wardwell in memory of the late Mrs. Fredrica L. Milne when the site given by Mrs. Milne proved inadequate in size because of expanded church plans. The new site offers ample space for parking and a future parish hall and rectory building. .... ..

The contemporary church design is known to most Woodstockers and an enlarged photograph of the architect's model is posted on the grounds. In the way of futher details, Mr. van Benschoten adds:

Floor is of frame construction concrete slab. Roof interior is of exposed plank; roof exterior will probably be exposed hand-split shakes. The limited wall areas are concrete block. Church glassing is translucent panels of fibreglass - reinforced polyester sheets on aluminum grids. Thse are being designed by Doris Lee.

The church is enveloped by two roof tents which taper in plan and longitudinal section, the larger tent sheltering the congregation and the smaller tent the altar. The low end of the larger tent rests under the high end of the smaller tent and the intervening clerestory daylights the altar while the high and open end of the larger tent daylights the congregation. Natural ventilation is through opening at the lowest and highest areas of the larger roof. The highest point of roof shelters the church bell under a roof overhang which is partially open for sound propogation.

In the summer of 1954, a number of distinguished Woodstock artists met with Mrs. Milne and most generously offered their talents toward the creation of the church decor. Among those interested were: Arnold Blanch, Doris Lee, Konrad Cramer and John Pike. From among this group are artists designing the surface and color treatment and accessory elements.

Charles Boswell Book Reviewed by Critics

Woodstock, Sept. 29—A new mystery novel, Surrender To Love, by Charles Boswell, Woodstock author, and Lewis Thompson published by Popular Library, was reviewed in the New York Herald Tribune, Sunday, September 25. James Sandoe wrote as follows:

"The Carlyle Harris case has been turning up in briefer accounts for years but this fuller treatment warrants attention even from the jaded because of the author's careful and pertinent lacing of detail. Harris, a notably blond young man was accused and tried (1892) for the poisoning of his young and secret wife, a student at the Comstock Select Boarding School for Young Ladies, 32 West 40th street.

"William Travers Jerome spoke gaudily for the defense and the prisoner's mother (who wrote for St. Nicholas and spoke on child-care at the Met) was in fierce attendance. Francis Wellman, still an authority on cross-examination, blew down a wordy defense, and Harris, in spite of appeals (by Howe and Hummel) was electrocuted.

"Messrs. Boswell and Thompson, authors of several of the Classic Murder Trials series (Gold Medal) have followed that pattern here but with more ease and admirable results.

"Popular Library books have the mose sedulously vulgar and repetitious covers on the newsstands, further marred by dully misleading blurbs (his itch, her urge, their rapture sort of thing) but get past the leer and the roar and you'll have a fine time."

Mr. Evers, Sherman Funk and Mrs. Zimm compose the publication committee for the forthcoming Historical Society pamphlet.

The possibility of an exhibition of paintings in the possession of Mrs. Louise Bolton and Miss Winifred Haile of the Red Barn, to be put on view in the near future in the Ganso Gallery at the Guild, was discussed Those on the committee in charge are: Miss Anita Smith, Mrs. Oxhandler and Mrs. Evers.

Prior to the business meeting a program of folk songs of the Catskills were sung by Mrs. Barbara Moncure. One was "Friend, Skunk and Indian," a ballad; "Bright Phoebe," a sailor's song, and "Knickerbocker Line," an old folk song, the original version of which had been obtained by Mrs. Moncure from Mr. Aaron Van de Bogart, Sr., of Wittenberg.

New Method

Medford, Ore. (AP) — Experiments in pear orchards here hint that the oily smudge filling the air on cold nights can be eliminated. Experimenters from Oregon State College tried burning sawdust briquettes and lengths of waste wood from sawmills to heat the air. They said the method holds promise, give clean smoke and the cost is comparable with that of oil.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Contract Signed For Construction At St. Gregory's

Woodstock, Sept. 29—The Rev. Herald C. Swezy, vicar of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, has announced the signing of a contract Sept. 19, for the building of the new church with Woodstock builder Karl Schroeder. The contract was negotiated on a fixed fee basis and building operations will begin this week, weather permitting.

According to the designer, William H. van Benschoten, A.I.A., achitect for the Diocese of New York, the church will have a seating capacity of 120 and will have a character interest appropriate to this artistic community. The new building will be located on Route 212, a short distance from the present corncrib chapel. The new site of approximately four acres was given to the Diocese by Miss Alice Wardwell in memory of the late Mrs. Fredrica L. Milne when the site given by Mrs. Milne proved inadequate in size because of expanded church plans. The new site offers ample space for parking and a future parish hall and rectory building. .... ..

The contemporary church design is known to most Woodstockers and an enlarged photograph of the architect's model is posted on the grounds. In the way of futher details, Mr. van Benschoten adds:

Floor is of frame construction concrete slab. Roof interior is of exposed plank; roof exterior will probably be exposed hand-split shakes. The limited wall areas are concrete block. Church glassing is translucent panels of fibreglass - reinforced polyester sheets on aluminum grids. Thse are being designed by Doris Lee.

The church is enveloped by two roof tents which taper in plan and longitudinal section, the larger tent sheltering the congregation and the smaller tent the altar. The low end of the larger tent rests under the high end of the smaller tent and the intervening clerestory daylights the altar while the high and open end of the larger tent daylights the congregation. Natural ventilation is through opening at the lowest and highest areas of the larger roof. The highest point of roof shelters the church bell under a roof overhang which is partially open for sound propogation.

In the summer of 1954, a number of distinguished Woodstock artists met with Mrs. Milne and most generously offered their talents toward the creation of the church decor. Among those interested were: Arnold Blanch, Doris Lee, Konrad Cramer and John Pike. From among this group are artists designing the surface and color treatment and accessory elements.

Soviets Are Freeing 9,626 War Prisoners

Moscow, Sept. 29 (AP) — The Soviet Union, keeping its promises to the Germans, is releasing 9,626 German war prisoners.

The Moscow press today published a decree of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet ordering 8,887 of the prisoners freed outright.

The Presidium said the other 749, because of the "special gravity" of their offenses against the Russian people, would be handed over for further disposition to the East or West German governments, depending on their original residences.

Premier Nikolai Bulganin told West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer during their talks here earlier this month that Russia would release the prisoners. This was the principal condition Adenauer fixed for opening diplomatic relations between Moscow and Bonn.

Market Prices Lower

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—Prices drifted lower on the stock market today following gains at the opening in a further rebound from Monday's break. An overnight pileup of buying orders brought initial gains to about $1 then the market turned irregular and lower with a spread of $3 a share lower to $1 higher.

PLAN GOC GUEST NIGHT—Members of the Ground Observer Corps, Kingston Post, will be guests of the Community Theatre on October 4 for the showing of "The McConnel Story," starring Alan Ladd and June Allyson, which depicts the heroics of Joe McConnell, America's first triple jet ace. Film will be shown in conjunction with local GOC recruiting drive for volunteers, October 4-8. Preparations for guest night at the theatre are made here by (l-r) Michael Dorso, theatre manager, Mrs. Dewey Logan, post supervisor, and M/Sgt. Samuel Moody, Air Defense Filter Center, White Plains. Indonesia Is Voting

Jakarta, Indonesia, Sept. 29 (AP) — Sandaled women in gaily colored sarongs voted in startling numbers today, far outnumbering the men at many polling places as Indonesia's first popular national elections got under way. The brisk women's vote seemed destined to play a decisive role in the elections, in which the big question was whether the anti-American Communists could fulfill their promise to win a majority.

Japan Awaits Typhoon

Tokyo, Sept. 29 (AP)—A mighty typhoon rolled toward Japan's southern island of Kyushu tonight as the rice-rich area battened down in a fearful wait. Sixteen persons were already reported injured by advance winds with two small vessels sunk and several houses smashed. The typhoon's heart, with winds up to 125 miles an hour, was expected to hit in the early morning.

Janet Kills 350

Mexico City, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Weather Bureau announced that hurricane Janet, with an estimated death toll of 350 to 400 already, lashed at the Mexican coast today, a little north of Veracruz. It said winds of 119 miles per hour blew along the coast at daybreak, with the eye of the storm not due for several more hours. The bureau said 16 inches of rain had fallen in 12 hours but that the apparent course of the year's 10th hurricant will carry the center past major populated areas. The region north of Veracruz is sparsely populated.

Wants NATO to Stay

United Nations, N. Y., Sept 29 (AP)—France declared today that it would firmly oppose any European security system which would mean the dissolution of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the withdrawal of United States forces from Europe. In a major policy speech, French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay also told the UN Assembly his government considers the reestablishment of German unity is "the essential condition for a return to a normal situation in Europe."

Explored Territory

Pike's Peak, in Colorado, was named for Captain Zebulon Pike who, at President Jefferson's request, explored much of the Louisiana Territory.

Till Witnesses Guarded

Chicago, Sept. 29 (AP)—Two key witnesses in the Louis Emmett Till murder case have been put under around-the-clock police protection in their south side homes. A police officer on each of three daily shifts has been assigned to the home of Mrs. Mamie Bradley, mother of the Chicago Negro youth, at 6427 St. Lawrence avenue, and to the home of Willie Reed, an 18-year-old Negro cotton picker, at 2103 S. Michigan avenue.

Amputee Is Father

Paterson, N. J., Sept. 29 (AP) —Clarence "Red" Mosley, quadruple amputee of the Korean war, became a father last night with the birth of a daughter at Barnert Memorial Hospital. He was married last Sept. 25 to Miss Ruth Shaw, of Paterson. Mother and daughter were doing well today. The baby, who weighed 7 pounds, 6 ounces at birth, will be named Nancy.

Neighbors With an Odor

Edmonton, Alta. (AP)—When Mrs. J. S. Parker got her first whiff of a strange odor she thought the gas stove was leaking. But it wasn't. There are six skunks living in the neighborhood of her home. Only dogs and cats have challenged them so far. And they're sorry they did.

A BIT PAIL—This long-eared cocker spaniel puppy seems a little apprehensive about the soap bath he's about to get. He doesn't even seem to like his water bucket, called a "te-oke" in Tokyo, where this picture was taken.

Soviets Are Freeing 9,626 War Prisoners

Moscow, Sept. 29 (AP) — The Soviet Union, keeping its promises to the Germans, is releasing 9,626 German war prisoners.

The Moscow press today published a decree of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet ordering 8,887 of the prisoners freed outright.

The Presidium said the other 749, because of the "special gravity" of their offenses against the Russian people, would be handed over for further disposition to the East or West German governments, depending on their original residences.

Premier Nikolai Bulganin told West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer during their talks here earlier this month that Russia would release the prisoners. This was the principal condition Adenauer fixed for opening diplomatic relations between Moscow and Bonn.

Market Prices Lower

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—Prices drifted lower on the stock market today following gains at the opening in a further rebound from Monday's break. An overnight pileup of buying orders brought initial gains to about $1 then the market turned irregular and lower with a spread of $3 a share lower to $1 higher.

Indonesia Is Voting

Jakarta, Indonesia, Sept. 29 (AP) — Sandaled women in gaily colored sarongs voted in startling numbers today, far outnumbering the men at many polling places as Indonesia's first popular national elections got under way. The brisk women's vote seemed destined to play a decisive role in the elections, in which the big question was whether the anti-American Communists could fulfill their promise to win a majority.

Japan Awaits Typhoon

Tokyo, Sept. 29 (AP)—A mighty typhoon rolled toward Japan's southern island of Kyushu tonight as the rice-rich area battened down in a fearful wait. Sixteen persons were already reported injured by advance winds with two small vessels sunk and several houses smashed. The typhoon's heart, with winds up to 125 miles an hour, was expected to hit in the early morning.

Janet Kills 350

Mexico City, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Weather Bureau announced that hurricane Janet, with an estimated death toll of 350 to 400 already, lashed at the Mexican coast today, a little north of Veracruz. It said winds of 119 miles per hour blew along the coast at daybreak, with the eye of the storm not due for several more hours. The bureau said 16 inches of rain had fallen in 12 hours but that the apparent course of the year's 10th hurricant will carry the center past major populated areas. The region north of Veracruz is sparsely populated.

ALBANY, Sept. 29 (AP)—The state will receive salk vaccine worth $1,727,000 from the federal government for its anti-polio programs.

The vaccine will be apportioned to localities, the health department said yesterday.

New York was among 22 states and territories given authority Tuesday to take part in the federal antipolio program. The aid must be used by Feb. 15, 1956.

NEWARK, N. Y., Sept. 29 (AP)—The Agricultural Insurance Co. of Watertown, N. Y., has been ordered to pay Mr. and Mrs. E. Jay Ferdinand of Milburn $11,775 for jewelry stolen from their car in Florida.

Judge Frederic R. Colie of Superior Court yesterday ordered the payment to the Ferdinands, who had testified that their car was broken into more than a year ago and that seven pieces of insured jewelry were stolen.

They sued the company after it had refused to pay for the loss, contending that it was due to negligence on their part.

BOSTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Roswell F. Thoma of Buffalo, N. Y., president of the Niagara Frontier Transit System Inc., is the new president of the American Transit Assn.

Thoma, who had been vice president, was elected yesterday at the association's convention here. He succeeds Donald C. Hyde of Cleveland.

Expect Coffee Prices To Slide Before 1956

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—Coffee prices should tumble before the year's end, more than erasing the recent retail price boosts which ranged up to four cents a pound.

This was the concensus today of trade observers here, who noted a world surplus of coffee is expected and new harvests start coming to market in November and December.

The world's exportable coffee production for the year ending next June 30 is estimated at 37 million bags, compared with an expected world consumption of 30 million bags. There's also a sizeable carryover from last year's stocks.

Prices might break even before November, the observers said, should coffee-growing Brazil soon go ahead with a long-rumored currency devaluation which would make her coffee cheaper in terms of U. S. dollars.

Dodgers Bank on Loes For Series Equalizer

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—Dreary indeed was the Brooklyn outlook today as the Dodgers, striving to win their first world championship, again came to grips with their nemesis New York Yankees in the second game of the 1955 World Series.

Downed in yesterday's opener by a lefthander, the kind they've blasted all over the National League during the regular season, the Dodgers were to be served the same southpaw dose today. Yankee Manager Casey Stengel, encouraged by Lefty Whitey Ford's victory despite an admittedly mediocre pitching performance, came right back with another lefthander in Tommy Byrne.

Manager Walter Alston of the Dodgers was shaken somewhat by the Yankees' savage home run barrage—their trademark in the annual fall classic—that blasted his ace righthander, Don Newcombe, off the hill and powered them to a 6-5 victory. The sophomore skipper, however, decided to entrust Billy Loes, another righthander, with the "get even" assignment.

Byrne, who only once before has pitched in a series, made a fine comeback this year at the ripe old age of 35. He won 16 and lost five, pitching three shutouts. Loes, plagued by a sore arm on and off all season, wound up with only a 10-4 record. He has pitched in three previous series games, winning one and losing one, both against the Yankees.

THE WEATHERMAN who came through in fine style yesterday after scaring the folks with a wet prediction, promised a perfect baseball day—fair and sunny with temperature ranging from the high 60's to the 70's and gentle westerly winds.

With one game in the bag, the odds went up on the Yankees to make it six straight series victories over the Dodgers. The American League champions are now 9-5 to take all the marbles and 6-5 to take today's game despite the continued absence of their big power guy, Mickey Mantle, from the starting lineup.

The ailing center fielder, still unable to run hard on his torn right thigh, reported after a light workout before yesterday's game that he didn't think he'd play at all in the series. Both managers promised the same lineups with the exception of the pitchers, of course.

FIVE HOME runs were blasted by both sides yesterday, one short of the record for one game. Three of them were hit by the Yankees, two by first baseman Joe Collins and one by left fielder Elston Howard. The pair of part-time performers drove in all but one of the Yankee runs.

Newcombe, Brooklyn's pride and only 20-game winner, was the victim of all New York's homers and runs and all but one of their nine hits before finally shuffling off the mound in the sixth inning. His near-faultless control—he walked only 38 in 234 innings—failed him as he absorbed his third World Series defeat without a victory. The two walks he yielded were turned into runs.

Ford was the winner, but he was no ball of fire either. The compact little 18-game winner was tagged for nine of Brooklyn's 10 safeties, including home runs by Carl Furillo and Duke Snider. He also issued four passes but was good enough when he had to be except in the eighth inning when the Dodgers struck back for two runs to cut the Yankees' lead to one run.

THE LAST Brooklyn run was an electrifying steal of home by Jackie Robinson that ignited the only real argument of the afternoon. Yankee catcher Yogi Berra argued plate umpire Bill Summer's decision, insisting he had tagged Robinson but the American League umpire stood firm.

Two innings earlier, Billy Martin tried to swipe home but Summers called him out as catcher Roy Campanella took relief pitcher Don Bessent's low pitch and dived atop the sliding runner.

The Dodgers put 15 runners on base to 12 for the Yankees, but left nine men stranded while the Yankees left only two runners on the basepaths.

Ford retired the side in order in the sixth and seventh but after weathering a storm in the eighth was removed by Stengel.

Bob Grim, who has become the Yankees' No. 1 reliever during the past two weeks, sealed the victory with a scoreless ninth.

Yankees 9 to 5 To Cop Series

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—It was 9 to 5 today that the New York Yankees would win their 17th World Series after defeating the Brooklyn Dodgers 6-5 in the first game.

The Yanks also were favored at 6 to 5 to win today's game and take a 2-0 lead into Ebbets Field for the third game on Friday.

'I Wanted Him in the Teeth'

Campanella-Martin Feud Enlivens Series

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—A bitter feud was developing between Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella and New York second baseman Billy Martin today and it wouldn't surprise anyone to see them come up swinging the next time they come in contact.

It started when Martin proclaimed a couple of days ago that Campy was gun shy—that is, he fell back on contact plays. Campanella laughed that one off, but when Martin tried to steal home in the Yanks' opening 6-5 victory yesterday, the Brook catcher really got annoyed.

"ANYTIME THAT shrimp thinks he's going to run over me, little as he is, I'll break every bone in his body," growled the usually amiable Campy. "Just let him take two steps toward me and I'll take care of him. He's been too smart for too long."

When Martin came out of the dust after being tagged out, he made a threatening gesture toward Campanella, but Roy was on his way to the dugout by then, so it didn't mean anything.

"If it had been a regular-season game instead of a World Series, I'd have punched him in the nose," snarled Martin. "That was the second time he hit me in the neck with a tag. I'd be tough, too, if I had all that catcher's protection."

Appraised of Martin's remarks, Campanella grunted:

"I missed tagging him where I wanted to by about three inches. I'd like to have tagged him in the teeth."

This and Data On the Series

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—Figuring the World Series:

A well-rested Billy Loes faced the Yankees today. The Brooklyn righthander has pitched only nine innings since Sept. 7. He's 1-1 against the Yankees in World Series competition.

Billy Martin, whose triple kayoed Don Newcombe in the sixth inning, slammed two triples in the 1953 series.

Newcombe's gopher ball habits must be an increasing cause for concern to Manager Walter Alston. Don gave up 35 homers to National League batters this year.

Joe Collins, who blasted both of his homers off Newcombe, apparently likes to hit his four-baggers in pairs. He walloped two against Cleveland Aug. 2 to beat the Indians 2-1 and another two against the White Sox Sept. 9 to give the Yanks a 5-4 victory.

Yesterday was the eighth time the Yankees beat the Dodgers by one-run in World Series play.

The attendance of 63,869 was almost 6,000 under that of the first game of the 1953 series when 69,374 fans jammed into Yankee Stadium.

It was the fifth time in their six World Series against Brooklyn that the Yankees walked off with the first game victory. The Dodgers won the 1952 opener when Joe Black bested Allie Reynolds, 4-2.

Air Force Team Signs Buck Shaw

Denver, Sept. 29 (AP)—A step toward pulling the U. S. Air Force Academy into the ranks of the future football powers was taken with the signing of Lawrence T. (Buck) Shaw as head coach yesterday.

Shaw, a 56-year-old veteran of college and professional coaching, was signed to a five-year cotract at an undisclosed sum. It takes effect Jan. 1, 1956.

Yearlings Bring $484,000

Camden, N. J., Sept. 29 (AP)—The annual yearling sale at Garden State Park concluded last night with a total of 219 head sold for $484,600 during the three-day auction. Top price at the closing session was $13,300, paid by Mrs. Milton Erlanger, New York, for a chestnut colt by Loser Weeper out of Teaneck Madcap.

The New Giant Skipper

Rigney's Minneapolis Millers Win Series

Minneapolis, Sept. 29 (AP)—Lean Bill Rigney turned over his glossy credentials to the New York Giants today, a Little World Series championship that climaxed one of the finest managerial jobs of the season.

Named to succeed Leo Durocher as the Giant skipper just five days ago, the 37-year-old Californian last night brought Minneapolis its first junior series title with a 9-4 victory over Rochester of the International League. The game was the deciding seventh of the series.

IT WAS A REGAL sendoff for the former Giant infielder. His 1955 record at Minneapolis was letter perfect, a season's championship and a sweep through the playoffs in the face of trials which once threatened to put the Giants' No. 1 farm club on the skids.

The club was almost torn apart by Giant player recalls early in the season and by a chain of injuries later on. But Rigney glued it together in what Miller general manager Rosy Ryan called "one of the greatest managerial jobs I've seen."

Rigney passed out the bouquets handsomely.

"The guys never let up, never quit trying. And the big man all the way was Al Worthington."

WORTHINGTON the righthander who won three playoff games and relieved again last night, almost assuredly is ticketed for a starting job with the Giants next year.

In the series-winner against Rochester, it was the Miller's celebrated wrecking crew that cleaned up. Bob Lennon, Carl Sawatski, Monte Irvin and Don Bollweg all clouted homers.

Lennon drove in five runs to lead the Miller attack on Cot Deal, Duke Markell and Floyd Wooldrige, with Deal taking the loss, his first after five post-season victories for the International Leaguers.

Floyd Melliere, who surrendered only two hits in six innings of relief, was the winner. Rochester routed starter Bud Byerly with two runs in the first, including a homer by Howie Phillips.

Patterson Fights Whitlock Tonight In 10-Rounder

San Francisco, Sept. 29 (AP)—Floyd Paterson, 20-year-old contender for aging Archie Moore's light heavyweight crown, meets Dave Whitlock of Oakland, Calif., in a 10-round match tonight.

Patterson has suffered only one setback in 25 starts—a disputed loss to Joey Maxim. The Brooklyn boxer is heavily favored to whip Whitlock, now on a comeback and No. 9 contender in the light-heavy ranks.

'Showboat' Yogi Describes Robby's Theft

Brook third baseman Jackie Robinson and Yank catcher Yogi Berra also failed to see eye-to-eye Robbie stole home in the eighth and Berra complained long and loud. He thought he had put the ball on Robbie before the Dodger veteran touched the plate.

"Anyway," said Yogi, "It was strictly showboat strategy, stealing home when you're two runs behind like that. It was a bad play."

Phil Rizzutto and Peewee Reese, the respective shortstops, are the series old-timers. They first met back in 1941.

Reese never has won a series ring, one of the prizes for each player on the winning team.

"Tell you what I'll do, Peewee," laughed Rizutto while photographers snapped the two. "I'll have your name engraved in my ring this year and give it to you."

"I won't accept it unless your finger is in it," replied Reese.

Yank manager Casey Stengel is touchy about any mention of winning the series in four straight.

Asked if he thought the Yanks might turn the trick, he snapped:

"I didn't say anything about four straight. Don't sell those Dodgers short. They're a good team. That shortstop (Reese). He does everything right. They all hit. They're tough.

Manager Walt Alston of the Brooks, allowing he hates to get beaten, said he wasn't discouraged.

"I don't feel too bad," he added. "I'm still sure we're going to win. The Yanks didn't scare anyone."

Empire Diner and Blacktops Launch Y Campaign With Wins

Three former high school stars matched their skills in the A Division of the Y Autumn Basketball League last night as Empire Diner registered a 56-51 victory over Back Cedaraps.

In the companion piece, a B Division struggle, the fast-breaking Blacktops scored a resounding 79-50 win against Back Cedaraps, Jrs.

Backs surprised Empire in going to the front with an early lead, accomplished by the accurate firing of Bill Haber, who kept pouring them in from the corners, and the advantage they enjoyed off the boards with the sparkling rebounding of John Godwin.

HOWEVER, TWO other former scholastics, George Carpouzis and Marty Kantrowitz, maintained the pace until the final period with some deadly shooting.

Racking up 22 points, which included nine field goals, Godwin grabbed the high individual scoring honors. Haber dumped in seven fields and produced 16 points for the runner-up spot in the Empire spree.

Carpouzis and Kantrowitz shared the scoring load for Backs with 21 and 20, respectively as the scoring breakdown was fairly even with Backs taking a three-point lead at the end of the first period. They trailed by seven at the intermission, two at the end of the third period and scored one more point than the winners in the final session.

THE BLACKTOPS covered the court with blistering speed and a fast-breaking attack in their victory over the Cedaraps Jrs., taking a big 17 point lead at the first quarter. They battled on even terms in the final period when Backs finally got organized but the breach was too wide at that point.

Harry LaForge, the free-scoring gendarme, dumped in 17 points for Backs while Jack Dawkins and Den Lenehan contributed 11 apiece.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McLANE
Fishing Editor

The largest brown trout I know of are the sea-run populations found in Sweden, Ireland and Scotland and in certain local areas of the northeastern United States.

These forms are sometimes mistaken for Atlantic salmon or landlocked salmon, but may be distinguished by the squarish or only slightly emarginate tail, dark spots on sides usually surrounded by prominet halos, teeth on vomer (anterior roof of mouth), well developed smaller scales and larger mouth with the maxillary extending far behind the eye in larger specimens.

THE SALMON has an emarginate tail even in adults, black spots on the body occasionally surrounded by light areas, vomerine teeth little developed with few on the shaft, larger scales and a smaller mouth, the maxillary never extending very far behind the eye.

The brook trout is more gullible when it comes to baited hooks and lures than the brown or rainbow trout.

For this reason, as well as others, the species is easily depleted when subjected to heavy fishing. It may be caught by any of the methods commonly used for fresh water fishing.

However, fly fishing is frequently possible in lakes or ponds only in the spring, when the surface waters are cool. During hot weather the fish retires to the depths or spring holes where bait fishing or deep trolling are the only productive methods.

IN FISHING a quiet stretch of water, the dry-fly angler can use the roll cast to considerable advantage in retdieving without making a disturbance on the water.

However, instead of making a complete roll, snap the rod forward only part way, pick the fly out of the air with a back cast, and then make a regular forward cast.

These motions blend smoothly, and when fishing a short line there's little chance of spooking nearby fish.

Yesterday was the eighth time the Yankees beat the Dodgers by one-run in World Series play.

The attendance of 63,869 was almost 6,000 under that of the first game of the 1953 series when 69,374 fans jammed into Yankee Stadium.

It was the fifth time in their six World Series against Brooklyn that the Yankees walked off with the first game victory. The Dodgers won the 1952 opener when Joe Black bested Allie Reynolds, 4-2.

Air Force Team Signs Buck Shaw

Denver, Sept. 29 (AP)—A step toward pulling the U. S. Air Force Academy into the ranks of the future football powers was taken with the signing of Lawrence T. (Buck) Shaw as head coach yesterday.

Shaw, a 56-year-old veteran of college and professional coaching, was signed to a five-year cotract at an undisclosed sum. It takes effect Jan. 1, 1956.

Yearlings Bring $484,000

Camden, N. J., Sept. 29 (AP)—The annual yearling sale at Garden State Park concluded last night with a total of 219 head sold for $484,600 during the three-day auction. Top price at the closing session was $13,300, paid by Mrs. Milton Erlanger, New York, for a chestnut colt by Loser Weeper out of Teaneck Madcap.

BILLY LOES

The New Giant Skipper

Rigney's Minneapolis Millers Win Series

Minneapolis, Sept. 29 (AP)—Lean Bill Rigney turned over his glossy credentials to the New York Giants today, a Little World Series championship that climaxed one of the finest managerial jobs of the season.

Named to succeed Leo Durocher as the Giant skipper just five days ago, the 37-year-old Californian last night brought Minneapolis its first junior series title with a 9-4 victory over Rochester of the International League. The game was the deciding seventh of the series.

IT WAS A REGAL sendoff for the former Giant infielder. His 1955 record at Minneapolis was letter perfect, a season's championship and a sweep through the playoffs in the face of trials which once threatened to put the Giants' No. 1 farm club on the skids.

The club was almost torn apart by Giant player recalls early in the season and by a chain of injuries later on. But Rigney glued it together in what Miller general manager Rosy Ryan called "one of the greatest managerial jobs I've seen."

Rigney passed out the bouquets handsomely.

"The guys never let up, never quit trying. And the big man all the way was Al Worthington."

WORTHINGTON the righthander who won three playoff games and relieved again last night, almost assuredly is ticketed for a starting job with the Giants next year.

In the series-winner against Rochester, it was the Miller's celebrated wrecking crew that cleaned up. Bob Lennon, Carl Sawatski, Monte Irvin and Don Bollweg all clouted homers.

Lennon drove in five runs to lead the Miller attack on Cot Deal, Duke Markell and Floyd Wooldrige, with Deal taking the loss, his first after five post-season victories for the International Leaguers.

Floyd Melliere, who surrendered only two hits in six innings of relief, was the winner. Rochester routed starter Bud Byerly with two runs in the first, including a homer by Howie Phillips.

Patterson Fights Whitlock Tonight In 10-Rounder

San Francisco, Sept. 29 (AP)—Floyd Paterson, 20-year-old contender for aging Archie Moore's light heavyweight crown, meets Dave Whitlock of Oakland, Calif., in a 10-round match tonight.

Patterson has suffered only one setback in 25 starts—a disputed loss to Joey Maxim. The Brooklyn boxer is heavily favored to whip Whitlock, now on a comeback and No. 9 contender in the light-heavy ranks.

'Showboat' Yogi Describes Robby's Theft

Brook third baseman Jackie Robinson and Yank catcher Yogi Berra also failed to see eye-to-eye Robbie stole home in the eighth and Berra complained long and loud. He thought he had put the ball on Robbie before the Dodger veteran touched the plate.

"Anyway," said Yogi, "It was strictly showboat strategy, stealing home when you're two runs behind like that. It was a bad play."

Phil Rizzutto and Peewee Reese, the respective shortstops, are the series old-timers. They first met back in 1941.

Reese never has won a series ring, one of the prizes for each player on the winning team.

"Tell you what I'll do, Peewee," laughed Rizutto while photographers snapped the two. "I'll have your name engraved in my ring this year and give it to you."

"I won't accept it unless your finger is in it," replied Reese.

Asked if he thought the Yanks might turn the trick, he snapped:

"I didn't say anything about four straight. Don't sell those Dodgers short. They're a good team. That shortstop (Reese). He does everything right. They all hit. They're tough.

Manager Walt Alston of the Brooks, allowing he hates to get beaten, said he wasn't discouraged.

"I don't feel too bad," he added. "I'm still sure we're going to win. The Yanks didn't scare anyone."

Empire Diner and Blacktops Launch Y Campaign With Wins

Three former high school stars matched their skills in the A Division of the Y Autumn Basketball League last night as Empire Diner registered a 56-51 victory over Back Cedaraps.

In the companion piece, a B Division struggle, the fast-breaking Blacktops scored a resounding 79-50 win against Back Cedaraps, Jrs.

Backs surprised Empire in going to the front with an early lead, accomplished by the accurate firing of Bill Haber, who kept pouring them in from the corners, and the advantage they enjoyed off the boards with the sparkling rebounding of John Godwin.

HOWEVER, TWO other former scholastics, George Carpouzis and Marty Kantrowitz, maintained the pace until the final period with some deadly shooting.

Racking up 22 points, which included nine field goals, Godwin grabbed the high individual scoring honors. Haber dumped in seven fields and produced 16 points for the runner-up spot in the Empire spree.

Carpouzis and Kantrowitz shared the scoring load for Backs with 21 and 20, respectively as the scoring breakdown was fairly even with Backs taking a three-point lead at the end of the first period. They trailed by seven at the intermission, two at the end of the third period and scored one more point than the winners in the final session.

THE BLACKTOPS covered the court with blistering speed and a fast-breaking attack in their victory over the Cedaraps Jrs., taking a big 17 point lead at the first quarter. They battled on even terms in the final period when Backs finally got organized but the breach was too wide at that point.

Harry LaForge, the free-scoring gendarme, dumped in 17 points for Backs while Jack Dawkins and Den Lenehan contributed 11 apiece.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McLANE
Fishing Editor

The largest brown trout I know of are the sea-run populations found in Sweden, Ireland and Scotland and in certain local areas of the northeastern United States.

These forms are sometimes mistaken for Atlantic salmon or landlocked salmon, but may be distinguished by the squarish or only slightly emarginate tail, dark spots on sides usually surrounded by prominet halos, teeth on vomer (anterior roof of mouth), well developed smaller scales and larger mouth with the maxillary extending far behind the eye in larger specimens.

THE SALMON has an emarginate tail even in adults, black spots on the body occasionally surrounded by light areas, vomerine teeth little developed with few on the shaft, larger scales and a smaller mouth, the maxillary never extending very far behind the eye.

The brook trout is more gullible when it comes to baited hooks and lures than the brown or rainbow trout.

For this reason, as well as others, the species is easily depleted when subjected to heavy fishing. It may be caught by any of the methods commonly used for fresh water fishing.

However, fly fishing is frequently possible in lakes or ponds only in the spring, when the surface waters are cool. During hot weather the fish retires to the depths or spring holes where bait fishing or deep trolling are the only productive methods.

IN FISHING a quiet stretch of water, the dry-fly angler can use the roll cast to considerable advantage in retdieving without making a disturbance on the water.

However, instead of making a complete roll, snap the rod forward only part way, pick the fly out of the air with a back cast, and then make a regular forward cast.

These motions blend smoothly, and when fishing a short line there's little chance of spooking nearby fish.

Schafer Looks to Future After 31 Productive Years in YMCA

By CHUCK NORD
(Freeman Sports Staff)

Lou Schafer likes to be around people. Perhaps that's why he's been in YMCA work for 31 years.

Schafer, energetic general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association's Kingston branch, finds his daily work ever stimulating, because it brings him into contact with humans from all walks of life.

The number of people he meets must be growing. For now, after 12 years in Kingston, Lou declares that he and the organization he heads are suffering from growing pains.

There's an acute need for space at the 'Y.' But the chances are that Schafer will solve that problem as he has most of the others he's met in 61 years.

LOU SCHAFER

SCHAFER DOESN'T look his age. His face and body structure reflect a life of vigorous physical activity. His step is as quick or quicker than that of a man in his prime.

Louis H. Schafer was born in Batavia, N. Y., on Dec. 31, 1894.

His first association with the YMCA was when he was 13 years old. He won a Y-sponsored cross-country meet, although not a member at that time.

"I decided then to join the Y and I've been a member since," Lou says.

Schafer didn't have time for sports in high school. As he relates, he was "from the other side of the tracks . . . and had to work."

HE GRADUATED from high high school in 1912 and between that time and before he entered Springfield, Mass., college in 1920, he played semi-pro basketball and baseball and continued his cross-country competition. He attended summer school at Cornell.

Schafer left Batavia with $200 in his pocket and enrolled at Springfield. It was a tough grind, working his way through four years of a physical education major. But Lou made it, and also found time to earn his letter in four sports—soccer, baseball, basketball and gymnastics.

After college Schafer began his YMCA work in Greenwich, Conn. He stayed at Greenwich for six years, moving to New London in 1930.

Schafer transferred to Kingston in 1943. Ten years later, after almost 30 years as a physical director, he was promoted to a general secretary's status.

THE KINGSTON YMCA's physical department made remarkable advances under Schafer's guidance. Lou has promoted basketball in endless fashion, and was one of the guiding lights in the start of the annual Kingston tournament, which is co-sponsored by the YMCA and the Recreation Department.

Schafer also was behind the growth of the Da-Y camp for youngsters. He is active in community affairs, being a member of the Kiwanis Club and the Trinity Lutheran church. He has served on a number of civic committees.

Schafer started the ever-popular YMCA Youth Center in 1944. He converted the orchestra of the old theatre that forms the rear of the 'Y' into a dance floor.

Schafer believes that the center, with its dances and available game rooms, is valuable in combating juvenile delinquency. He points out "It's the only public place in the city where teenagers can congregate."

THE BALDING voluble general secretary has accomplished plenty. But one discovers that he's far from satisfied.

"We're growing out of here," he declares. "We need separate handball courts (they're now on the basketball court), rooms for wrestling and boxing and weightlifting, and an improved business and professional men's health center. We could also use more space for our boys' and young men's programs."

Lou looked back again on his career. He recalled having taught 7,500 young people to swim and had 2,500 graduate from his lifesaving classes. He has done extensive work in physical therapy, notably in the field of infantile paralysis.

"It's great to see kids get leadership training and see them succeed in life," Schafer recalled. 'I went back to Connecticut some time ago and one fellow looked me up. He's a school principal now; the last time I remembered him I was whacking his fanny in gym class."

"I'VE ALWAYS tried to be something of a kid with my classes," he continued. 'I never let them know my age. You might say I try to participate in what I promote."

Lou grants that YMCA work can be tough on family life, since there's so many kinds of activities going on at so many different hours. "Your wife must be community-minded,' I tell the young fellows just beginning YMCA work," Schafer says.

Lou is a family man. He married the former Una LaVoie of Greenwich in 1932. The couple has a daughter, Una Louise, who is now a senior at Wagner College, Staten Island, where she is majoring in early childhood education.

If he could study again, Lou says he'd take up physical therapy more extensively and become a medical gymnast. But he has few, if any, regrets about his long service with the 'Y'.

Konstanty Injured

Newburgh, N. Y., Sept. 29 (AP) —Jim Konstanty, a pitcher for the New York Yankees, suffered facial bruises in an auto accident near here this morning while en route to pitch batting practice for the second game of the World Series. Konstanty was cut off by another car on the New York State Thruway. He was driving from his home in Worcester and was alone. A doctor said he would be able to go to New York after treatment but probably would miss the team's warmup session. Konstanty, although a member of the Yankees most of the season, cannot appear in any series game because of an eligibility regulation.

Boyd Surprises With Brilliant Nod Over Fullmer

Chicago, Sept. 29 (AP) — The Windy City, which hasn't produced a title contender in the ring since the days of Johnny Bratton, may have one in middleweight Bobby Boyd.

Boyd, a lanky 21-year-old Negro managed by Bernard Glickman, a Chicago awning company executive, was in the ring with a hornet at Chicago Stadium last night and handled himself well, all things considered.

FROM THE opening bell, Fullmer's crowding, flailing style placed Boyd under continuous bombardment. Boyd, with good combinations, shot across sharp rights and wicked lefts that caught Fullmer as he charged, opening a cut under his eye and bloodying his nose.

There was plenty of action for the national television audience and the sparse ringside gathering of 1,573 that contributed to a net gate of $1,896. Boyd, outweighing his vicious-swinging foe 161¼ pouds to 155, gained a unanimous 10-round decision.

The edge was close on all three official cards. Referee Tony Zale favored Boyd 97-96. Judge Harold Marovitz 97-94 and Judge Lou Capperilli 96-94.

Report Basilio To Defend Title Against DeMarco

Boston, Sept. 29 (AP)—Reports circulated in Boston boxing circles today that Carmen Basilio will defend his welterweight title against ex-champion Tony De Marco in a 15-round return bout Nov. 30 at the Boston Garden.

Boston promoter Sam Silverman refused to confirm the rematch, but reports were an official announcement would be made soon. De Marco opened his campaign for another shot at the title by scoring a brutal technical knockout over Chico Vejar in 2:40 of the first round at the Garden Sept. 14.

Schafer transferred to Kingston in 1943. Ten years later, after almost 30 years as a physical director, he was promoted to a general secretary's status.

THE KINGSTON YMCA's physical department made remarkable advances under Schafer's guidance. Lou has promoted basketball in endless fashion, and was one of the guiding lights in the start of the annual Kingston tournament, which is co-sponsored by the YMCA and the Recreation Department.

Schafer also was behind the growth of the Da-Y camp for youngsters. He is active in community affairs, being a member of the Kiwanis Club and the Trinity Lutheran church. He has served on a number of civic committees.

Schafer started the ever-popular YMCA Youth Center in 1944. He converted the orchestra of the old theatre that forms the rear of the 'Y' into a dance floor.

Schafer believes that the center, with its dances and available game rooms, is valuable in combating juvenile delinquency. He points out "It's the only public place in the city where teenagers can congregate."

THE BALDING voluble general secretary has accomplished plenty. But one discovers that he's far from satisfied.

"We're growing out of here," he declares. "We need separate handball courts (they're now on the basketball court), rooms for wrestling and boxing and weightlifting, and an improved business and professional men's health center. We could also use more space for our boys' and young men's programs."

Lou looked back again on his career. He recalled having taught 7,500 young people to swim and had 2,500 graduate from his lifesaving classes. He has done extensive work in physical therapy, notably in the field of infantile paralysis.

"It's great to see kids get leadership training and see them succeed in life," Schafer recalled. 'I went back to Connecticut some time ago and one fellow looked me up. He's a school principal now; the last time I remembered him I was whacking his fanny in gym class."

"I'VE ALWAYS tried to be something of a kid with my classes," he continued. 'I never let them know my age. You might say I try to participate in what I promote."

Lou grants that YMCA work can be tough on family life, since there's so many kinds of activities going on at so many different hours. "Your wife must be community-minded,' I tell the young fellows just beginning YMCA work," Schafer says.

Lou is a family man. He married the former Una LaVoie of Greenwich in 1932. The couple has a daughter, Una Louise, who is now a senior at Wagner College, Staten Island, where she is majoring in early childhood education.

If he could study again, Lou says he'd take up physical therapy more extensively and become a medical gymnast. But he has few, if any, regrets about his long service with the 'Y'.

Konstanty Injured

Newburgh, N. Y., Sept. 29 (AP) —Jim Konstanty, a pitcher for the New York Yankees, suffered facial bruises in an auto accident near here this morning while en route to pitch batting practice for the second game of the World Series. Konstanty was cut off by another car on the New York State Thruway. He was driving from his home in Worcester and was alone. A doctor said he would be able to go to New York after treatment but probably would miss the team's warmup session. Konstanty, although a member of the Yankees most of the season, cannot appear in any series game because of an eligibility regulation.

Boyd Surprises With Brilliant Nod Over Fullmer

Chicago, Sept. 29 (AP) — The Windy City, which hasn't produced a title contender in the ring since the days of Johnny Bratton, may have one in middleweight Bobby Boyd.

Boyd, a lanky 21-year-old Negro managed by Bernard Glickman, a Chicago awning company executive, was in the ring with a hornet at Chicago Stadium last night and handled himself well, all things considered.

FROM THE opening bell, Fullmer's crowding, flailing style placed Boyd under continuous bombardment. Boyd, with good combinations, shot across sharp rights and wicked lefts that caught Fullmer as he charged, opening a cut under his eye and bloodying his nose.

There was plenty of action for the national television audience and the sparse ringside gathering of 1,573 that contributed to a net gate of $1,896. Boyd, outweighing his vicious-swinging foe 161¼ pouds to 155, gained a unanimous 10-round decision.

The edge was close on all three official cards. Referee Tony Zale favored Boyd 97-96. Judge Harold Marovitz 97-94 and Judge Lou Capperilli 96-94.

Wood River, Ill. (AP)—How good is a rain check? Pretty good said Howard Oetting, manager of the city's swimming pool, when an Alton couple flashed a couple of year-old rain checks. Rain checks are issued pool customers if they are driven from the pool by rain less than an hour after they entered it. The swimmers found them in a dresser drawer and "just thought we'd go swimming."

Odd Job Man

Martinsville, Va. (AP)—Patrolman Gene Dalton saw a length of three-quarter inch hose across the street. Apparently placed there by youngsters. Better take it to city hall. Before he finished he had some 500 feet of it in the back of his car. "If you think that isn't hard work, try it," he said.

"SEA DUTY" IN TIMES SQUARE—Navy frogmen invaded New York's Times Square, but it was all a promotion scheme to stimulate recruiting and publicize a TV show produced in cooperation with the Navy. Lt. (j.g.) Philip Huber, right, records his unique "sea duty" in the "Navy log" as frogman James F. Cook, quartermaster second class, watches beneath eight feet of water. Judging from the crowd, their purpose was fulfilled.

By DICK KLEINER

THE RECORD SHOP: This seems to be the year for pianist-composers to come out from behind their keyboards and sing. First we had Sammy Fain with an album of his own songs. Then Matt Dennis clicked as a performer. Now jazz pianist Lou Stein is being recorded by Epic with vocals, yet.

This last is the most surprising. Lou Stein has one of the scratchiest voices east of Andy Devine. Lou is puzzled himself by the idea of singing because, as he says, "People tell me they can hardly understand me when I'm just talking."

Every so often, a sweet little girl comes along and sings a sweet little song and twangs on the public's heartstrings and a new star is born. Well, Lillian Briggs is the newest star, but she's different.

She's an ex-truck driver, an ex-welder, and ex-trombone player and she belts out a song like she was mad at it and what she does to the public's heartstrings is more of a slash than a twang. But she's overpowered the public with her Epic record, "I Want You To Be My Baby," and the follow-up, "It Could've Been Me," is a different type but there's power there, too.

One doesn't need to ask Miss Briggs questions. One only has to listen. As for example, this monolog:

"I always loved to drive. With my high school graduation money and some I saved working as a cashier, I bought a blue and red Ford with a yellow streak down the side. But I had no license. So my father took me out for a drive and the hood flew off and we were almost suffocated with gasoline fumes. Gee, I loved that car.

"I started in music playing the violin and piano. But in school (this was Scranton, Pa.) I wanted to play with the high school band and the only instruments they had left in the lesson room were the trombone and drums. My mother said, 'You're not going to bring any drums in here,' so I played the trombone.

"In two years, I had five cars—one had leopard skin upholstery, one had red-and-white candy stripes. One was plain gray, but I got rid of it.

"I played trombone in girl bands, all around. I used to do solos —get up in front and play trombone and shout a song, like 'Shake, Rattle and Roll.' This man comes up and says I can make a singer out of you. For three months I just took lessons. I sing like I feel, like I play the trombone. My manager changed me a lot — I didn't look like this. I used to have black hair and looked, well, sort of tough.

"I took a job as a driver of a laundry truck because it paid better than a cashier. I got bit by a dog, the truck turned over once in the mud, I h[illegible]tree. But the boss said I was O.K. I'd been a tomboy as a kid [illegible] when I was 12, I bowled 220, but that was an accident.

"I still love cars. After my record was a hit, I went out and bought a new Buick convertible — I'm in debt for 10 years. It's turquoise. I wanted a Ford Thunderbird, but my trombone wouldn't fit in."

Timely Exit

Muskegon, Mich. (AP)—Gilbert Dias, 40, suffered only minor hurts when he was tossed out of his auto in a collision. But his car went on to jump a curb, smash two chairs on a lawn, barge through a fence, crash through a garage wall and knock a parked car through the opposite side of the garage.

WED AT 15 — German Princess Ira Furstenberg is only 15 years old, but she's already married. She recently became the wife of Prince Alfonso Maximillian Hohenlohe Langenburg in one of the year's largest weddings in Venice, Italy. Lace fan she is carrying is a wedding gift.

Timely Exit

Muskegon, Mich. (AP)—Gilbert Dias, 40, suffered only minor hurts when he was tossed out of his auto in a collision. But his car went on to jump a curb, smash two chairs on a lawn, barge through a fence, crash through a garage wall and knock a parked car through the opposite side of the garage.

Chevalier Spry at 67

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—True, he admits he is 67 years old, but Maurice Chevalier bounces around like a frisky squirrel in a new solo show at the Lyceum Theatre. He combines his nostalgic French number with some verve of American burlesque which makes his premier show last night a combination of surprise and delight. Some of the numbers he does in English and some he does in French, and true it is that several of his most delightful French numbers probably would not pass the local censors if translated in not-so-subtle English. The censors would have to speak French fast, so the sketches only imply their humor without offending the puritan viewpoint.

Choice of Names

Pittsburgh, Pa. (AP) — Like most expectant parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Tempalski pondered on the name they would select. Finally, they decided if it was a boy they'd name him Michael, Matthew or John. They used all three names as Mrs. Tempalski gave birth to triplet sons on Labor Day.

Perfect Record

Chevalier Spry at 67

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—True, he admits he is 67 years old, but Maurice Chevalier bounces around like a frisky squirrel in a new solo show at the Lyceum Theatre. He combines his nostalgic French number with some verve of American burlesque which makes his premier show last night a combination of surprise and delight. Some of the numbers he does in English and some he does in French, and true it is that several of his most delightful French numbers probably would not pass the local censors if translated in not-so-subtle English. The censors would have to speak French fast, so the sketches only imply their humor without offending the puritan viewpoint.

Choice of Names

Pittsburgh, Pa. (AP) — Like most expectant parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Tempalski pondered on the name they would select. Finally, they decided if it was a boy they'd name him Michael, Matthew or John. They used all three names as Mrs. Tempalski gave birth to triplet sons on Labor Day.

Perfect Record

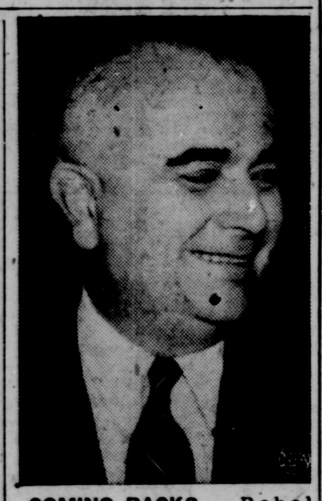
Lost Marble

Joliet, Ill. (AP)—Charlene Pitts, 6, coughed up a marble she swallowed 2½ years ago after she had her tonsils removed. Mrs. John Pitts, the girl's mother, said she remembered it must have been the marble Charlene lost while playing with a game she had received as a Christmas present.

NOBODY HERE BUT US SQUIRRELS—Only an empty park in Janesville, Wis., greeted the opening campaign speech of Howard Boyle, Jr. The Milwaukee attorney, opposing Republican Sen. Alexander Wiley in Wisconsin, went on with his speech and had four listeners after 45 minutes. Boyle said, "I'll keep on fighting even if I end up talking only to the squirrels in the parks."

NOT TRUE — That's what Vanessa Brown, above, is saying about reports of backstage bickering on the set of TV's "My Favorite Husband." Vanessa costars with Barry Nelson in the show, and they and their spouses have been making a gay foursome lately. Barry didn't get along so well with Vanessa's predecessor, Joan Caulfield.



COMING BACK? — Rebel leaders in Argentina are predicting that the famous newspaper La Prensa will be returned to Alberto Gainza Paz, its former editor and publisher. The paper was seized by ex-President Juan Peron four years ago, and Paz was exiled to America.
